Judge Hooper Refuses Delay in Offering Plan For School Integration

Board Told To Comply By Tuesday

By JACK KAPLAN

A last-ditch effort by Atlanta city attorneys to delay the submission of a desegregated school plan failed Friday when U.S. District Judge Frank A. Hooper denied their plea for a stay.

City Attorney Jack Savage and Special City Attorney Newell Edenfield filed the request for a supersedeas (stay) in Judge Hooper's chambers where they discussed the plea about 20 minutes.

PUBLIC IMPORTANCE

The attorneys requested additional time "for the reasons that the questions involved are questions of public importance and the rights and interests of a great many people other than the plaintiffs will be affected by compliance with the injunction and by the filing of the plan."

Judge Hooper described the move as "pursuing a sane course," but denied the request thus imposing his July order compelling the board to submit the desegregation plan by Tuesday.

In denying the request, Hooper said he thought the public would better be served if the plan was submitted in time to go before the Georgia Legislature which convenes in January.

JULY 9 RULING

The Atlanta Board of Education was ordered to submit the plan for desegregating city schools by Dec. 1, in a ruling handed down by Hooper July 9. The order was in the form of an injunction against the board barring further practice of racial discrimination in the school system.

The July order allowed the

C of C Asks Big Cut in Income Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—A drive to bring about a quick 3½-billion-dollar annual cut in income taxes was opened Friday among business and industrial men.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce advised members its board of directors had decided to throw its weight behind the Baker-Herlong bill and "will stimulate educational efforts in all member organizations and firms in support of the measure."

BEFORE COMMITTEE

The Baker-Herlong bill, which provides for a graduated scale of tax reductions over a five-year period, is before the House Ways and Means Committee which is making a general study of taxes.

The measure endorsed by the chamber was introduced by Reps. A. S. Herlong Jr. (D-Fla) and Howard H. Baker (R-Tenn). The chamber said it would give all individual taxpayers a rate reduction of not less than 25 per cent over five years. The top rate would be lowered from 91 to 47 per cent and the lowest tax bracket would be reduced from 20 to 15 per cent.

Corporate taxes would drop one per cent annually, going down from 52 to 47 per cent. The bill also would make some changes in depreciation allowances, capital gains, estate and gift taxes.

ASK SALES TAX

Estimating the immediate loss of revenue at about 3½ billion dollars a year, the chamber's Washington newsletter to members said this could be offset by a temporary sales tax applied across the board at "a low uniform rate."

"Properly applied," the newsletter said, "the reduction would actually increase the amount of government revenues in a short time, distribute the tax burden more equally, promote stability of the dollar, provide both the means and incentive for business to tackle new, and expand going, enterprises and create more jobs for our increasing population."

Renewal Unit Calls Zoning Showdown

The Atlanta Housing Authority, the city's agent in a $24 million-plus urban renewal program, Friday readied a showdown on rezoning for 1,000 low-rent apartment units to house displaced Negro famlies.

M. B. Satterfield, authority director, notified Mayor Hartsfield and members of the Aldermanic Board a petition will be filed next week to rezone some 50 acres in the Hightower road-Bankhead area of Atlanta for erection of 650 apartment units.

Last week, the Aldermanic Board's zoning committee deadlocked on a request to rezone 14 acres of land on Forrest avenue, NE, for 350 units.

Hartsfield Friday said he has been notified by officials of the Public Housing Administration and the Urban Renewal Administration that all federal aid for the housing projects has been withdrawn pending favorable action on the rezoning.

Satterfield said he was instructed by the Atlanta Housing Authority to proceed at once with rezoning efforts to provide housing for families who have been displaced by urban renewal projects.

This means that the crisis could reach a head at the Dec. 7 meeting of the Aldermanic Board.

Asserting "this is no cry of wolf," Hartsfield stressed the need for early action to avoid what he termed a "breakdown" of the badly needed renewal program.

The Forrest avenue rezoning is for the site formerly occupied by the Henrietta Egleston Hospital for Children. Satterfield said Friday night that he did not recall the definite boundaries of the Hightower road section.

Thousands Crowd Into Stores Here

By JIM MONTGOMERY

Capacity crowds of Christmas shoppers Friday stormed Atlanta's bastions of commerce in a record-shattering, 12-hour blitzkrig—then withdrew in exhaustion as fresh reserves formulated strategy to renew the attack Saturday.

Friday's epic encounter, easily the equal of the most superlative ever staged by the late Cecil B. DeMille, found wave after wave of shockless forces advancing on groaning gift counters throughout the city.

Armed with seemingly unlimited cash and credit resources, supported by record incomes, the determined bargain-hunters forced Atlanta merchants to yield millions of dollars worth of booty.

And as anticipated, the throngs had secreted a record passel of loot in their homes by the end of the first day of Atlanta's 22nd annual after-Thanksgiving sale.

Indeed, it appeared that the number of people and volume of business in Atlanta Friday were limited only by the sheer capacity of sales people, shopping area and parking places. And despite the threat of rain all day, it was late afternoon before any fell.

Although store officials noted

Police Wearing Name Plates to Ease Contacts

Atlanta police Friday began wearing name plates as well as badges and other equipment.

The plates with the full name were pinned on the right side of the Eisenhower jackets. The badge is on the left.

Superior officers were issued gold-plated name bands; the patrolmen drew chrome-plated bands.

Police Chief Herbert Jenkins said the idea behind the nameplate was that it made contacts easier if a citizen could call a policeman by his name.

Bulldogs, Jackets Battle for Bowl Bid

By AL THOMY

Georgia plays Tech Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It is a sellout. Four bowl committees are interested in the outcome.

Need any more be said of this 53rd renewal of an ancient and proud football series which began in 1893, was suspended from 1916 to 1925, and has played to overflow crowds since? The magic attraction is Georgia vs. Tech.

If you haven't got a ticket, don't bother to make the trip to Grant Field Saturday. There are none left.

The setting could not possibly have a more exciting hue. Invitations from the Orange, Gator, Bluebonnet and Liberty bowls await teams which make a good showing on this final Saturday of the football season, and Georgia and Tech stand high on the roster of eligibles. All four bowls will have representatives at Grant Field.

It is no secret Georgia can have the Orange Bowl invitation if two conditions prevail at the end of Saturday's games. (1) The Bulldogs beat Tech, and (2) Florida stops Miami at Jacksonville.

Tech is conceded a chance for all the bowls, provided, of course, the Jackets dispose of the Bulldogs. The Bluebonnet, originating

Old Grads Howl At Rain, Scalpers

By MARION GAINES

The Old Grad howled in the frenetic heart of downtown Atlanta Friday night as the football faith bumped into cold sheets of rain and even colder ticket-scalpers.

The eve of the "Big Game" found University of Georgia and Georgia Tech alumni howling at the bad weather in general and at the cold-eyed scalpers in particular.

Howling least of all was the lucky Old Grad already holding one of the 40-odd thousand pasteboards of admission to Saturday's Grant Field crash between Tech's Yellow Jackets and Georgia's Bulldogs.

"Go 'Dogs!" howled a quartet of Old Grads, sporting red-and-black lapel pins, as they strode briskly from a Peachtree street hotel.

"To Hell with Georgia!" howled back two passersby clad in the old-gold-and-white jackets of the North Avenue engineers.

But the loudest—and most outraged—howls of all were emitted by ticketless Old Grads who encountered 6-to-8- man clumps of scalpers clustered in front of the Henry Grady and the Dinkler Plaza.

"Need a ticket?" a stocky, smiling scalper inquired aggres-

27,000 Tokyo Reds Riot Against U.S.; 462 Hurt

TOKYO (AP)—Thousands of leftist-led Japanese demanding an end to U.S. military ties stormed into the grounds of the Parliament building Friday. Police and sponsors of the demonstration reported 462 persons injured in clashes with police.

The chanting, shouting crowd of about 27,000 broke through the lines of 5,000 police and waved red flags from the portal that is reserved for Emperor Hirohito and visiting chiefs of state.

It was the first time in Japanese parliamentary history that mobs have broken into the grounds of the white stone building. The Parliament building itself was not entered.

For more than an hour about 8,000 demonstrators stayed on the grounds. They finally dispersed at the urging of their own leaders. Not a shot was fired, but the crowd threw many stones, and police said it was the most violent outbreak since the 1952 May Day riot when one person was killed and 500 injured.

The 1952 riot turned into an anti-American demonstration. It started over a police ban against use of the Imperial Plaza for a May Day parade.

The sponsors of Friday's demonstration were the Socialist and Communist parties, the 3½-million labor federation Sohyo, and Zen-

China Reds Grab U.S. Clerk in India

(Copyright 1959 by the New York Times Co.)

BOMBAY—A United States Consulate clerk, Marine Sgt. Robert Armstrong, was seized by Communist Chinese Consulate officials here Friday and forcibly held in their consulate for six hours. Indian police obtained his release.

Sgt. Armstrong, who is 30, had been escorting a would-be Communist Chinese defector.

U.S. Consul Gen. William Turner, in a public statement, said Armstrong had been bound and ill-treated during his detention. Neither the Indian police nor the Chinese Consulate made any statement.

According to Turner, a Chinese Communist, Chang Chien-Yuh, contacted the U.S. Consulate Thursday and said he wanted to seek refuge in the United States. He made two statements to consular officials condemning Chinese communism and averring he sought refuge of his own free will.

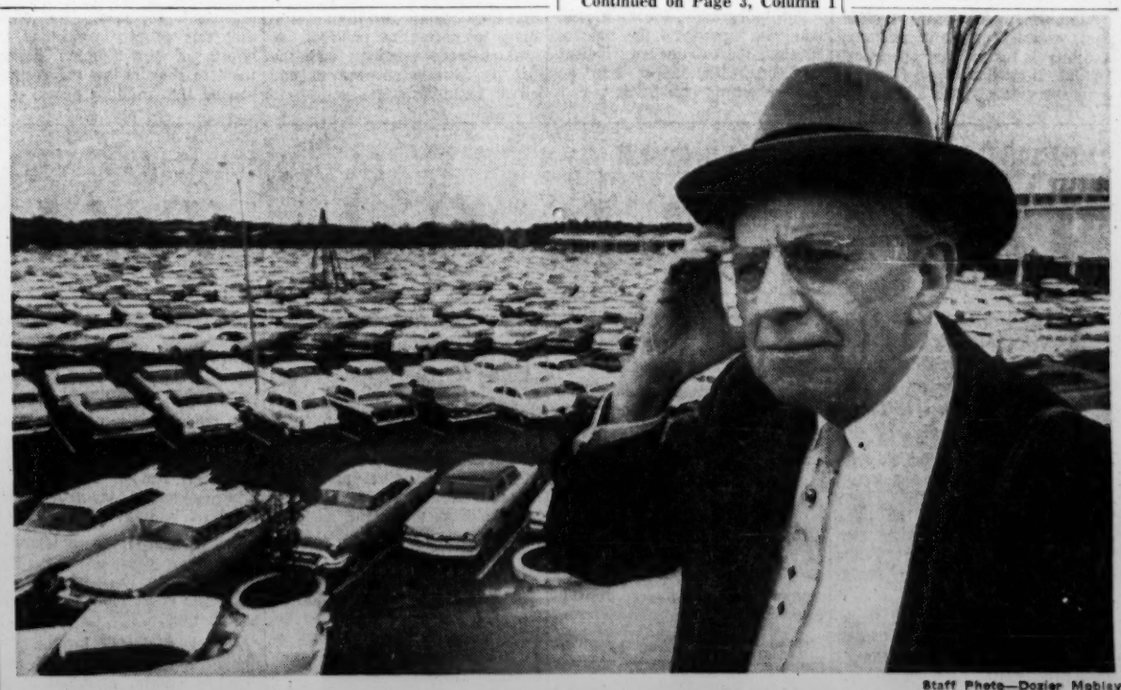

Armstrong was assigned to question him further and they went to a shack in the North Bombay seaside resort of Juhu. There Chang's answers were recorded on tape.

Friday morning the tape recording was missing and Arm-

Castro Now A Captive

When news came that the Castro government had removed Felipe Pazos as head of the National Bank of Cuba, I remembered this intelligent, educated man who had been one of the stanchest in the making of the revolt and its victory.

In the early months of the Castro triumph I talked for three hours with Felipe Pazos. He was a revolutionist, and a sincere one. He believed there could be a government in Cuba which was not corrupt. He also knew there were a few Communists in the army and government. But they did not occupy strategic positions. The Castro regime was not Communistic. The Catholic and Protestant churches supported it, being sickened by the horror of the Batista butcheries and corruption.

Felipe Pazos is an able man, experienced in banking and economics. He is well known in banking circles in this country. He knew that Cuba, lying close below the United States, had an economy which had to be tied to its neighbor.

Time

"Give us time," he said, as we talked. "Fidel is an inspiration. But he is not a man for details. You do not make a revolution and then attain immediate stability. Fidel knows that we must have a close, independent, working relationship with the American economy. We want it to be free of former restrictions which seemed to us unfair and which also made it difficult for us to abandon our one-crop curse. But we will work it out. We need time."

It was a good, honest talk—and a convincing one.

In memory, too, was a talk with Manuel Ray Rivero. He is no radical of the extreme left, though he had helped make and believed in the Castro revolution. He had been perhaps the most successful construction engineer in the country. He was minister of public works. Without question, he, too, was honest, dedicated, and no part of a Communist.

Dr. Faustine Perez was minister for the recovery of property illegally acquired by the Batista corruptionists. He was one of the immortals who landed with Castro on Dec. 2, 1956. Only 12 survived to see victory. Dr. Perez was a patriot whose love of Cuba and hopes for her future were inspiring.

All three of these are now ousted and given meaningless jobs. The revolution is consuming its litter.

As long as these men, and their associates, were in the government it could not be accused, as many did, of being Communist-dominated. It was not. It has not been. The Communists didn't even join in the revolution until they saw it would win. This was about a month before victory.

But it now is.

Communism

It has taken the Communist amoeba almost a year. But it now has surrounded a desperate Castro whose follies and inability to govern or administer have given the Communists opportunity to play to his desperation and to wheedle him into decisions and courses which they know will destroy him. This, indeed, is what they want. And the ghoulish thing is that his brother Raoul is working with them.

This is a situation with a Cain-Abel potential. As soon as Fidel Castro, dead and a martyr, will be of more service than Castro, alive and losing his power to inspire, the Communists will assassinate him. A good guess is that even now Castro is doomed. Only the time for the deed is to be determined.

Castro has named Maj. Ernesto Guevara as head of the Cuban bank. Guevara denies Communist affiliations. But he assisted in placing Communists in charge of the Arbenz government in Guatemala and he now leads the Communists and fellow traveling leftists who have Castro in their hands as they had Arbenz.

Guevara has no banking experience. The Bank of Cuba will now almost surely be nationalized. There will be a step-up in anti-America abuses. The revolution will soon devour Castro, and Guevara or Raoul Castro will try to use the army to attain the presidency. Fidel himself is next to be devoured.

Must Watch Red Hungary, U.N. Advised

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A special U.N. representative reported Friday that new reprisals against anti-Communist rebels in Hungary justified continued U.N. concern with the situation.

Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand made the statement in a 15-page report to the 82-nation General Assembly, which will hold full-scale debate on Hungary next week.

CHOSEN LAST YEAR

The Assembly named Munro, its former president, as special representative last year. He was told to explore what could be done to implement previous Assembly resolutions stemming from the suppression of the 1956 Hungarian revolt with the aid of Soviet armed forces.

Release of his report coincided with word from Moscow that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will attend the Hungarian Communist party congress in Budapest opening on Monday—the first since the 1956 uprising.

APPARENT SUICIDE

The report was made public also amid a flurry of excitement over the apparent suicide of Povl Bang-Jensen, a former U. N. political officer who was fired for refusal to turn over to U. N. officials a list of Hungarian witnesses who testified in secret before a U. N. fact-finding committee on Hungary.

"In the course of the past year," Munro said, "no evidence has been forthcoming on any basic change in the Hungarian situation which would warrant relaxation by the United Nations of its continued attention to the problem."

He said there had been a long blackout of news from Budapest on trials of anti-Communist rebels, but that in recent weeks new information on both trials and executions had come to light.

NOTES STATEMENTS

He noted statements given to reporters in Budapest last month on death sentences carried out in connection with the 1956 uprising, and also to reports of "another major trial."

"It is against his background that consideration needs to be given to recent reports of a disturbing character which have aroused widespread concern regarding the imminent possibility of further executions," he said.

Munro reported that Soviet troops still remain in Hungary despite U. N. Assembly resolutions calling for their removal.

CITES CHARGES

Withdrawal of these forces, he said, "would undoubtedly be regarded by all members of the United Nations as a contribution to the normalization of the situation."

He cited charges in a Hungarian Communist newspaper that that "American monopoly capitalists" were behind the 1956 revolt. He said this was part of the "fanciful version" of the revolt being told by Hungarian authorities to justify their defiance of the United Nations.

He said what happened in Hungary was that Soviet tanks shot at Hungarian workers who were trying to set up a government controlled by the people.

"Does it make sense to claim that, when the people of a country are targets for military operations conducted by the armed forces of a foreign power, such actions are a matter of domestic jurisdiction?" he asked.

"To assert this view is to destroy the very foundations of the United Nations."

Tough Physical Drills to Replace Frills in Training Air Rookies

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Good news for those who cry that servicemen are soft:

The base that first trains all Air Force recruits announced Friday it is tossing out the frills and ordering more physical conditioning and drills.

This is Lackland Air Force Base which gained national notice because it permitted recruits to skip physical training in favor of horseback riding and roller skating.

Such courses as military law, history and traditions will be slashed, many of them in half.

Physical training will be doubled, Maj. Gen. Robert Stillman, Lackland commander, said.

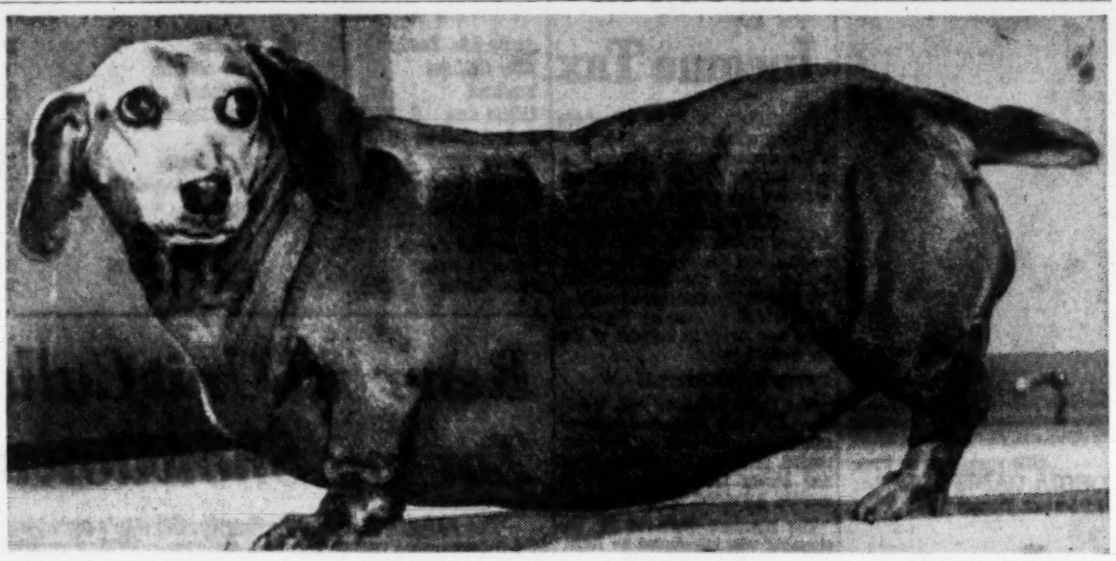

"The pendulum has swung the other way," he declared, referring to previous treatment of basic trainees.

Lackland processed 84,000 airmen last year. By slashing the frills, the base can handle about 22,000 more men annually, and get them into combat units faster.

For the first four weeks of training, they henceforth will receive eight hours' physical conditioning weekly, compared with the present four hours.

In the second cycle of training, after some men have been sent to specialist schools, those remaining will receive about an hour more of physical training each week than in times past.

And the recruits face much more drilling, the commander said. And, as any muscle-weary ex-serviceman can attest, drill is strenuous physical training itself.

New Superbomber Delayed by U.S.

By JACK RAYMOND

(Copyright 1959, The New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON—Four squadrons equipped with early model F104 jet Starfighters will be inactivated earlier than planned because of efforts to cut expenses, the Air Force announced Friday.

At the same time there were reliable reports that plans to develop and produce a high-speed high-altitude B70 bomber were being "stretched out."

The report revived earlier indications that many officials would like to cancel the B70 bomber program altogether. It has been criticized as an extension of manned bomber development at a time when ballistic missiles will be the most important weapons in future defense forces.

REORGANIZING ADC

The Air Force said the move to drop the F104 squadrons is part of a reorganization of the Air Defense Command. This involves an extension of the SAGE (Semi-Automatic Ground Environment) communications system.

In the reorganization, missiles and SAGE units are being established to take over many of the existing responsibilities of manned fighter interceptors.

The F104 jet fighters have achieved speeds of more than 1,400 miles an hour. Those that are being dropped, however, do not have the computors and other electronics attachments that make them compatible with SAGE.

100 INACTIVATED

There are 25 fighters in an ordinary squadron. The 100 planes being inactivated will be turned over to National Guard units. There are about 400 airmen and officers in each unit and they will be reassigned.

The units scheduled for inactivities are at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio; Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif.; Larson Air Force Base, Washington, and Westover Air Force Base, Mass.

DESIGNING MINUTEMAN

Meanwhile, the Air Force announced plans also for production facilities to be constructed for the Minuteman Intercontinental Ballistic Missile. The Minuteman is being designed as a three-stage, solid-fuel 6,400-mile-range weapon, due to be ready in two or three years.

The Air Force said that it plans to build a plant to produce the first stage of the Minuteman, a three-stage rocket, in the Ogden and Brigham City, Utah, area.

Motorcade Headed For Canal Zone

PANAMA (AP)—A 30-car motorcade was reported moving from the interior of Panama toward the canal zone friday night for demonstrations Saturday in the Panamanian-U.S. dispute over zone sovereignty. Cars were stopped briefly en route and searched by Panama troops—presumably for arms.

An air of nervousness hung over the capital on the eve of new rallies called to back up demands that Panama's flag be flown in the zone as a symbol of its sovereignty over the zone. The United States controls the zone under a lease in perpetuity.

The main demonstration was called for 4 p.m. at Panama's Foreign Ministry.

President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. and other leaders have appealed to Panamanians to refrain from violence. In a radio speech Thursday night, the President warned against any attempt to plant the flag in the canal zone by stealth or force.

But there were fears that Nationalists might try to show the flag in the zone or that political opponents of the President might seize an opportunity for trouble between demonstrators and National Guard troops.

U.S. Maj. Gen. William E. Potter, governor of the canal zone, ordered only normal police patrols to duty for Saturday unless trouble develops.

The demonstrations were called to coincide with the anniversary of Panama's independence from Spain.

On Nov. 3—the anniversary of Panama's separation from Colombia — demonstrations flared into violence between Panamanians and American troops and police and left about 80 persons injured.

Marine, 19, Kills Pal in Fast-Draw

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 19-year-old Marine killed his 20-year-old companion in a fast-draw game in their tiny sentry box Friday.

Pvt. John G. Barton, Tecumseh Mich., immediately telephoned for an ambulance for the victim, Pvt. Niels Hagerman of Danville, Ill. He said he accidentally discharged his .45-caliber service automatic, at 2½ feet, while practicing drawing.

A Navy board of inquiry met a few hours later to begin questioning friends of both.

Pending completion of the inquiry, Maj. Milton Cooper, commander of the Marine detachment at Hunters Point Naval Shipyard, reported: "There seems to be no question that this was accidental, as Barton said."

Maj. Cooper said further: Only one bullet was fired. It traveled only 2 to 2½ feet from pistol to Hagerman's left chest. The youth was dead on arrival at the yard hospital.

Kremlin Presses for Early Talks

PARIS (UPI)—The Soviet ambassador to France Friday denied speculation that Nikita S. Khrushchev suddenly had turned cool to an early summit meeting and insisted instead that the premier was "ready to sit down and talk at any time."

Ambassador Sergei Vinogradov said he was clarifying the Russian position in view of the confusion caused by Khrushchev's decision to meet President De Gaulle in Paris March 15, in what was interpreted widely as a "pre-summit" conference.

Vinogradov took exception to this view in a talk with the Anglo-American Press Corps here by declaring that the Soviet Union "intended no link between this visit and the East-West summit meeting."

"The summit conference could as well take place before Mr. Khrushchev's visit to France as after it," the ambassador said.

De Gaulle on Nov. 10 had listed a private meeting with Khrushchev as one of the conditions for his own appearance at the summit.

But Vinogradov, the man credited with arranging the meeting between the two leaders, indicated Khrushchev never had acknowledged this condition.

Romulo Rips Back At U.S. Generals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo said Friday that some U.S. military officers in the Philippines are engaged in "whispering campaigns" against the Filipino people. He proposed an investigation to ferret them out.

Romulu said in a sharp statement that an inquiry "into the background and mentality" of such officials might disclose why "America is not only losing prestige in, but is alienating countries least expected to be unfriendly."

Romulu's anger was aroused by charges of Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) that U.S. troops in the Philippines have been made the target of looting, harassment, and generally unfriendly treatment by the Filipino people and government.

The chairman of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee said U.S. commanders would be recalled from the Philippines to testify about Weaver's charges. The lawmaker recently made a three-day inspection of U.S. military bases in the islands.

Meanwhile, the State department gave a chilly reception to Weaver's suggestion that U.S. troops be withdrawn from the Philippines. Without mentioning Weaver by name, Press Officer Joseph Reap said U.S. bases there are "important to the security of both countries."

"These bases and the personnel manning them are there to implement a treaty of mutual defense," he said. He added that this country welcomed the efforts of the Filipino government to step up law enforcement around U.S. military bases.

Brazilians In Russia for Trade Pact

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Brazilian trade mission arrived here Friday to negotiate a coffee-for-caviar exchange that could give Russia its first major economic link with Latin America.

The Brazilians are led by Edmundo Barbosa da Silva, chief of the Economic Department of the Foreign Office.

Formal talks were expected to begin Saturday on trade deals in coffee, caviar and other products.

Brazil and Russia have no diplomatic relations and the Soviets have made no secret of the fact that they hope to use the negotiations to normalize political, as well as trade relations, with the Rio de Janeiro government and all of Latin America.

Amplifier Turns Noise Into Power

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — A research firm said Friday it had found a "revolutionary" method of extracting energy from sound.

Eugene A. Russell, president of Electronics Developments Inc. said his company discovered the principle of the new method 10 months ago and now has perfected it.

The system, he said, is cheap to produce and will be valuable in various fields, ranging from guided missiles to household uses.

DEMONSTRATE MACHINE

Russell and one of his engineers demonstrated their "power amplifier" at a news conference.

Russell said that, until his firm's breakthrough, it was believed that sound contained little energy. "You've heard about the singer cracking a glass with his voice? That's energy," said Russell.

He said his company's research "has proven that noise or a sound has an extreme amount of energy" and that it "developed a means of harnessing and applying it as a power source."

He explained the amplifier uses "electro-chemical" units instead of vacuum tubes and produces power by taking electrical impulses generated by sound passing through a microphone and converting them into electricity.

MISSILE POTENTIAL

The system, Russell said, "has a very definite potential in the missile field." He said the firm "is negotiating at present with a government agency for further research in that area."

Theoretically, Russell said, "whole cities" could be lighted by the system. He said, "You could build a soundproof room out in a field somewhere and install a noise-maker in it. You could bank enough of these units around it and produce enough electricity to light a whole city."

Divorcee Found Nude, Slain; Her Ex-Husband Arrested

MINOT, N.D.—A man whose former wife was found dead in her blood-spattered home at Glasgow, Mont., was arrested in Bismark, N.D., Friday night.

The victim's elderly father arrived here by train from Glasgow and authorities quoted him as saying he had been beaten and choked by the man who is sought, Harold Brown, 33.

Sheriff Olaf Haaland said Brown stopped Friday in Berthold, 25 miles northwest of Minot, and turned over his 6-year-old stepson to Mrs. Brown's mother.

The nude body of Verna Gae Brown, about 34, was discovered Friday by members of a car pool who stopped to take her to her work as a nurse at Glasgow Air Force Base. Her clothing, ripped and torn, was piled on a chair.

Haaland said Ole Peterson, 70, Mrs. Brown's father, told on his arrival here that he had gone to the Browns' home in Glasgow Thursday night. Peterson said his daughter wasn't at home and Brown choked and beat him, then gave him $15 and took him to the Glasgow railroad station.

The woman's son by a prior marriage, Randy Hartley, was not in the apartment when Mrs. Brown's body was found. Montana officers said Brown and the child later were seen driving north of Glasgow. Haaland said Brown stopped in Berthold and the boy was left at his grandmother's home.

Peterson said he did not know about his daughter's death until he arrived here. He said he was beaten by Brown after the young man accused him of precipitating Mrs. Brown's divorce action.

The nurse and Brown were divorced a little more than a month ago. Brown is a construction worker at the Glasgow base.

Haaland said officers checked the possibility that Brown was heading for Kent, Minn., where another former wife was believed living.

Tighten Belt, Cuba Told

By HAROLD K. MILKS

HAVANA (AP)—Bearded Maj. Ernesto Guevara, wearing a dark beret, a rumpled army uniform and a big grin, took over Cuba's National Bank Friday.

The Argentine-born leftist, stepping steadily closer to the top of Prime Minister Castro's hierarchy, moved behind the bank president's desk, succeeding conservative financial expert Felipe Pazos, an internationally recognized banker.

As head of the National Bank, appointed by the Cabinet Thursday, Guevara will control Cuba's foreign exchange reserves and act as virtual dictator of its imports and exports.

Guevara warned Cubans of new belt-tightening to stem the decline in Cuba's foreign exchange reserves.

Guevara, whose political and economic thinking is orientated more toward the Soviet Union than the United States, blamed low sugar prices for the drop in Cuban reserves.

"If sugar prices had been normal from the first, our foreign exchange situation would have been comfortable," he told the semiofficial newspaper Revolucion.

Guevara said Cuban bank depositors were logically uneasy about his appointment "because I have a certain fame as an extreme radical." Nevertheless, he promised no abrupt changes in government economic policies.

Cubans, he said, can expect continuation and probably even expansion of rigid import controls to preserve dollar balances which Guevara conceded still are declining.

With the change in bank leadership, the government announced the first formal expropriation of land holdings under the agrarian reform law. Previous land seizures were made without formal reference to the law.

Seized for distribution among landless peasants or conversion into state-directed farm cooperatives were the 300,000-acre properties of Hacienda Sevilla in eastern Oriente province.

Officials here said the land—most of it in the mountainous area where Castro first gathered strength for his revolution—was owned by the Cuban Development Co. of Delaware and under lease to a Cuban agricultural firm.

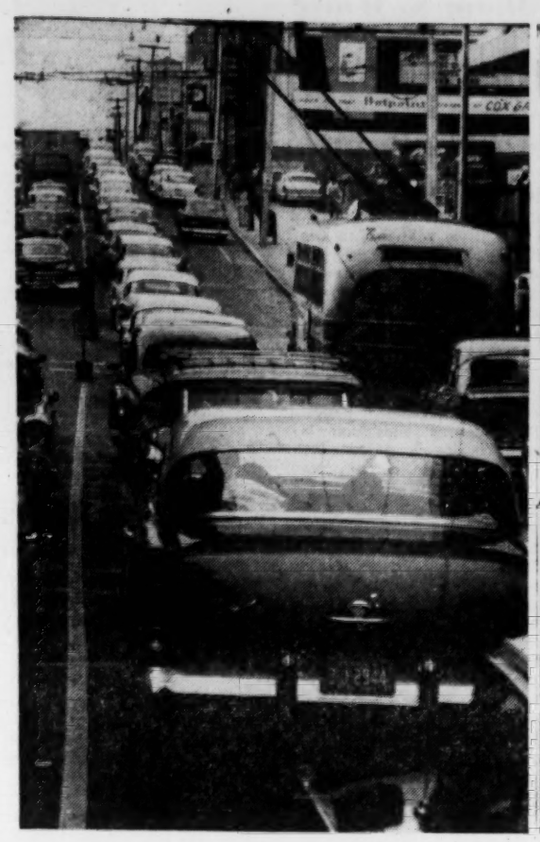

In other developments, military authorities rounded up 250 persons in the Holguin area of Oriente province. Among them is an American sugar cane grower identified as William Fuller.

Police said three unidentified planes flew over Havana Thursday night. Air force headquarters said none of its planes was flying at the time.

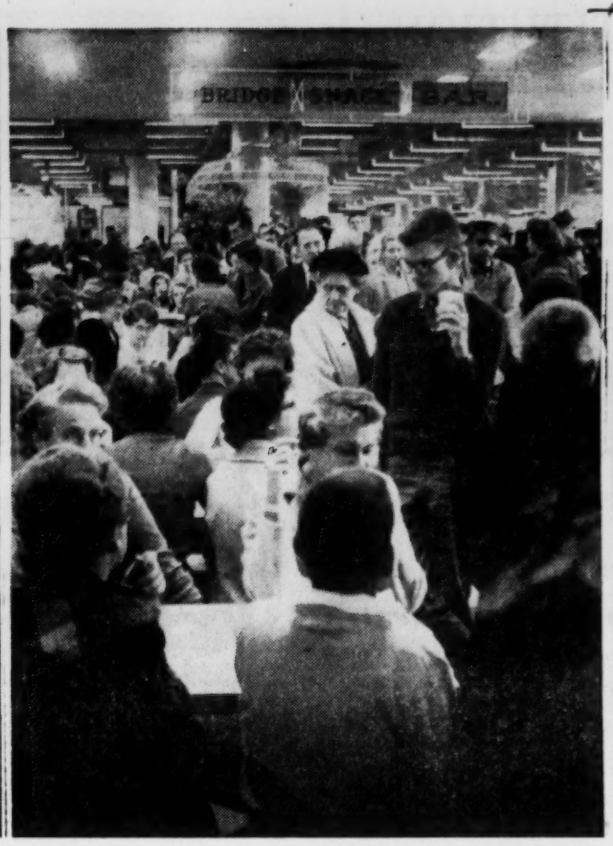

Armed students, in the first public appearances of the new people's militia, marched in parades commemorating the 1871 execution of eight students by Spanish forces.

Shoppers Swarm Atlanta's Stores

it was too early to obtain sales figures, they did make the following estimates:

Rich's—"It looks like another record day," beamed president Richard H. Rich. "In the downtown store, we counted 20 per cent more people than a year ago in the first hour. And the parking lot at Lenox Square was full by 11 a.m."

Davison's—"I don't know how this rain will affect us," said president Joseph Ross, "but up to now it still looks like it could be the largest day in our history. Business is fabulous at the Lenox store. It's been jam-packed since we opened at 10 a.m."

Sears—"I'm very pleased," announced Virgil Milton, manager of the four Atlanta area stores. "Business is very good. Our traffic looks better than last year. We expect to set a new record for the season (from now until Christmas)."

The two-day sale, cosponsored by The Atlanta Constitution and Journal and the Atlanta Retail Merchants Assn., annually launches the Christmas shopping season, during which many stores remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

When this year's sale winds up Saturday, only 22 shopping days will remain before Christmas.

And although it may have appeared that shoppers bought just about everything in sight Friday—with a repeat performance scheduled for Saturday—storekeepers have well-stocked warehouses from which they'll replenish their retail counters.

However, they point out, shoppers who wait until the last few days won't have the variety of selection that is available now.

Evidence of Atlanta's continued dominance as the retail trade center of the South is as plentiful as ever this year, with license tags from all parts of Georgia as well as neighboring states attesting to the distance many Christmas shoppers travel to roam the city's stores.

Hopkins Serving as SafetyChief

John L. Hopkins, investigator for Fulton Criminal Court Sol. Gen. John I. Kelley's office, Friday took over temporarily as Fulton County director of public safety.

A former member of the old county police force, Hopkins assumed the position on request of the county commissioners, County Agent S. D. Truitt and County School Supt. Paul D. West.

Kelley Friday said he had instructed Hopkins to report to the county commissioners for assignment to the job on a temporary basis "while they work the situation out for a permanent basis."

LEAVE FOR EASON

Hopkins was asked to take the position after Safety Director Nick Eason asked the commissioners for a leave of absence and a transfer to another county position. Eason said he asked for the leave and transfer on advice of his physician.

Eason, who recently was convicted of two traffic charges in Atlanta Traffic Court, said he felt his effectiveness had been impaired as director of public safety and the school patrol program. He said that since he has 19 years with the county, he wants to continue in county employ.

Hopkins was given leave by Kelley from his investigator's post to accept the position. Kelley said he was glad he could allow Hopkins to take the position since he has worked with the patrol program in the past.

"GOOD JOB"

"I want to do everything I can to do a good job for the county and for the commissioners," Hopkins said.

Hopkins, who has 16 years with the county, has worked closely with Eason and the patrol program for the last nine years. He, his wife and his son, Ronald, live at 5050 Lake Forrest Dr.

Ronald, a freshman at Clemson College, recently won the National Teen-Age Roadeo driving contest.

Hopkins is past chairman of the official board of the Sandy Springs Methodist Church.

N. Korea Snubs U.N. Meeting on Illegal Buildup

SEOUL (UPI)—The Communists snubbed the United Nations command Friday by refusing to meet to discuss charges of an illegal buildup in the Red-controlled portion of the demilitarized zone.

The command's senior member of the team, Lt. Col. Jeffrey G. Smith, accused the Reds of using various dodges to prevent the command's team from inspecting the area where the alleged illegal fortifications are constructed.

Christians Not Bored With Life

QUESTION: I have a great fear of death, and yet, because of life's burdens I want to die. I am in good health, but for some reason or other I feel that I am not long for this world. —C. C.

ANSWER: It's sad to meet up with a person like you who has no goal on central purpose in life. You have a chronic case of boredom brought on by thinking of yourself too much.

You are the type of individual who might take his own life, because your self-inflicted punishment has made you partly dead already. I read of a girl who took her life and left this note, "Died of old age at 21." I know people who are old at 18 and people who are young at 80. It's the condition of the heart that makes people old.

You say you're afraid to die. The trouble is you're afraid to live. Christ said, "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly." I have never known a committed Christian who was bored with life. Commit your life to God; let Him open your blurred vision; let Him change your outlook, give you release from guilt, and then you can live life with a capital L.

'Guide' Swipes $48 from Visitors After They Spurn His 'Easy Money'

Two Iowa residents Friday found out what a self-appointed host in Atlanta meant when he said "easy money," but the answer was not what they had expected.

Ronald L. Russell and his cousin, Larry Purcell, of Des Moines, told police they arrived here Thursday and parked on Williams street, near Baker street, NW.

A man walked up, asked where they were from and offered to show them about town. They said he mentioned "easy money" and when they asked how it could be come by he produced a roll of company payroll checks.

Uninterested in the scheme, the Iowa residents got out of their car briefly to use a telephone. When they returned, the self-appointed greeter was gone. So was a wallet containing $48 and prsonal papers that had been left in the dash compartment of the car.

Mrs. Hodges Files Habeas In Bid To Get Bond Cut

By RICHARD ASHWORTH

Mrs. Margaret Hodges, Atlanta's "lottery queen," has filed a habeas corpus writ in attempt to get her bail reduced so she can get out of Fulton County jail. Fulton Superior Court Judge Drwood T. Pye has set a hearing on the petition for 11 a.m. Dec. 7.

Mrs. Hodges is seeking a reduction on two bonds under which she is being held in lottery cases. One is for $45,000, the other for $25,000.

She charges the $45,000 bond, set by Judge Charles G. Bruce after she was convicted Oct. 14 of six counts of lottery and sentenced to six years, "is excessive" and that it actually amounts to no bond, in violation of her state and federal constitutional rights.

APPEAL IS PENDING

Pointing out that an appeal of the conviction already has been filed in Superior Court, Mrs. Hodges declared she is entitled to have a bond set which would assure her presence to answer final judgment in the case "should same be determined adversely to her upon her writ of certiorari" by the Superior Court of the state's appellate courts.

The amount of the $45,000 lottery bond, she said, amounts to $7,500 per count, "greater than is necessary" for a misdemeanor charge. This, the petition says, amounts to "unusual, cruel treatment."

JUDGE'S REFUSAL CITED

Mrs. Hodges argues that Judge Bruce "has refused to reduce said bond, stating he was not going to supercede this honorables court's order in which this honorable court reduced petitioner's appearance bond which petitioner was able to make."

She was referring to action by Judge Pye prior to her trial in reducing her appearance bond from $100,000 to $42,000.

Although she was able to make the latter bond, the petition added, her appeal bond "now is excessive, unreasonable and prohibitive and petitioner is unable to make the same because of the large amount," Mrs. Hodges added.

Holdup Suspect Surrenders to Straighten It Out

A robbery suspect sought for two weeks telephoned police Friday and surrendered. He was identified as Roy V. Sears, 35, of Hapeville.

Detective N. W. Flanagan said Sears and three others—Joe Lee Bishop and Shelton Harper of Atlanta and James W. McManus of Rock Hill, S.C.—were indicted a week ago by the Fulton County Grand Jury in the Nov. 2 robbery of a rental office at 381 Amal Dr., SW.

Sears, a one-time restaurant chef, was quoted that he "wanted to get things straightened out." He said he was in Waycross when he saw a newspaper item that he and three others had been indicted in the rental office robbery.

Traffic Toll Held to 6 In Georgia

By the Associated Press

Georgia's weekend traffic deaths tood at six late Friday but the State Patrol still stuck with its prediction of 17 fatalities over the long Thanksgiving Day weekend.

Sgt. H. C. English of the patrol's Accident Reporting Division said the forecast of 17 still stands. He said more were killed on Sunday during the Thanksgiving weekend last year than any other day.

"The worst of the holiday period is yet to come," he said, mentioning, too, heavy traffic from shoppers and the Tech-Georgia football crowds. A forecast of rain for Friday night and Saturday will tend to make the accident toll climb, he added.

Those killed as reported by the patrol:

King Herring, 35, of Graham, Ala., in a head-on collision Friday on Ga. 61 about two miles west of Carrollton.

Lonnie Buchanan Jr., 25, of Decatur, when his car hit a power pole and fire plug early Friday in Decatur.

Clinton Nease Shearhouse, 22, of Savannah, in a collision Thursday on Ga. 17 near Barlow in Effingham County.

J. C. Smith, about 50, of Fitzgerald, in a wreck with a tractor-trailer unit in Fitzgerald Thursday.

Willie Lee Williams, 19, of Augusta, in a collision in Richmond County Tuesday.

Michael Wayne Armstrong, 16, of Rossville, was killed when two cars collided at Lakeview Friday.

Pedestrian, 65, Struck, Injured

A 65-year-old pedestrian was injured seriously when struck by a car Friday.

A car hit Lee Jeffares, an interior decorator, of 544 Sixth St., NW, as Jeffares crossed the street at Marietta and McMillan streets.

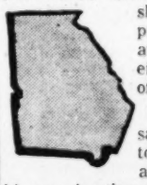

The driver, James E. Allgood Sr., of 555 Turner Pl., NW, was charged by police with violating pedestrian rights.

Walton Farmer Faces Slaying Hearing Today

A preliminary hearing was scheduled in Monroe Saturday for Charles Davis, a Walton County farmer held in the shotgun slaying of a Winder man Thanksgiving Day.

Walton County Sheriff Lewis Howard said Davis, about 34, surrendered voluntarily after the shooting of Dupree Darby, 38, at Davis' home eight miles east of Monroe.

The sheriff said Darby went to Davis' home and tried to force his way in when the shooting occurred. There had been trouble between the two men for several years, Howard added. He did not elaborate.

Darby was killed instantly by the blast that struck him in the chest.

Trailer Tires Stolen While Owner Sleeps

While Mrs. Davis Hash slept, a thief removed two tires from her trailer in Savannah, police said Friday.

Patrolman J. J. Davin said the thief quietly dug dirt from beneath the dual rear wheels of the trailer and made off with the outer rims and tires. Mrs. Davis discovered the loss when she awakened.

Road Controls Arouse Only Token Protests

Only token opposition to land use controls along the new four-lane highway from Rome to Cartersville, now under construction, has been made, officials said Friday.

Lack of strong opposition practically ensures enactment of controls by the Floyd Board of Roads and Revenue. Some 25 affected property owners had indicated they favor controls.

The proposed regulations call for three types of districts along the highway, medium and low density residential, and highway commercial.

Burglar Is Caught With Pants On

Selling underwear in grocery markets, a current trend in merchandising, was the undoing for a burglar in Brunswick. Police said Richard Byron, 20, Negro, put on a pair of new shorts as he and a companion looted a market. Traced by a laundry mark in his discarded shorts, Byron was caught with the underpants on and led police to a companion and the other loot,

Boy in Hospital After Shotgun Is Fired by Dog

An 11-year-old DeKalb County boy, whose left kneecap was nearly blown off when a beagle hound triggered a .16-gauge shotgun, was reported in "fair" condition Friday at Crawford Long Hospital.

The freak shooting of John A. Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelly, 2991 Lawrance Dr., occurred at the end of his first rabbit hunt, a Thanksgiving Day outing in Clayton County.

John's father said Eldren Walker, the boy's great-uncle, was seated "on a tree stump with his double-barreled shotgun across his lap."

"This beagle ran and jumped on Eldren's lap," Kelly said, "and his paw struck the trigger." The blast struck John, who was standing nearby.

Doll on Light Bulb Summons Firemen

Firemen who forced the front door of a toy shop at 3687 Roswell Rd., NW, after Patrolmen C. M. Cook and H. J. Crouch noticed smoke inside early Friday, found a large doll had fallen against an electric light bulb.

Damage was limited to the doll's clothes. There was no sign of what caused the doll to fall, the patrolmen reported.

4-H DELEGATES WEAR GEORGIA PEACHES

Spurgeon Richardson Jr., 18, Pins Carolyn Hix, 17

ARRIVE IN CHICAGO TODAY

Georgia 4-H Delegates Adorned With Peaches

Chicago's weather forecast is for freezing weather all day Saturday, but the Georgia peaches toddlin' down State street won't get frostbitten. The peaches look but aren't real.

They're imitation ones. Georgia's national 4-H Club convention delegates and chaperones ones will be wearing them to let the other 1,200 delegates know they're from the Peach State.

The weatherman said that when the train carrying the Georgia delegation arrives at Chicago's Dearborn Station at 9 a.m. Saturday, the temperature will be about 20 degress.

EACH A PEACH

As the Georgians boarded a streamliner at Atlanta's Union Station, plenty of sweaters and overcoats were conspicuous—as were the miniature peaches. The train roared off at 5:45 p.m. Friday. It was scheduled to stop in Nashville to pick up Alabama's delegation which will accompany the Georgia boys and girls to Chicago.

The Georgia delegation is comprised of 32 state 4-H project champions and eight chaperones. The champions will compete for national honors during the 4-H convention.

The Georgia delegation will stay at the Conrad Hilton Hotel. The convention ends Thursday, and they'll leave on the return trip at 4 a.m. Friday, arriving back in Atlanta at 9 a.m. next Saturday.

HE FOUND ONE

Even before the train pulled out, the Georgia youths packed the diner. The steward, Earl Elliott, promptly served up a sumptuous dinner of baker ham, pineapple sauce, oven-brown potatoes, green peas, rolls, ice cream, coffee, tea and milk.

To be served, it was required that they wear their Georgia peaches. The state 4-H cotton champion, 17-year-old Carolyn Hix, a dark-eyed brunette from Madison County, suddenly discovered she forgot to bring hers.

The young gentleman beside her—Spurgeon Richardson Jr., 18, state 4-H livestock conservation champion from Calhoun County—found one somewhere and pinned it on Carolyn.

The chaperones are L. R. Dunson, Mrs. Martha Harrison and Tommy Walton of Athens, state 4-H Club leaders; Miss Lora Laine of Athens, Extension Service district agent for northwest Georgia; Charles Tucker of Jonesboro, Clayton County farm agent; Miss Myra Hester of Blakely, Early County home demonstration agent; Miss Adrian Short of Thomaston, Upson County home demonstration agent, and Dr. C. C. Murray of Athens, dean of the University of Georgia College of Agriculture.

Miss Leony Ziebell of Brazil and Kem Chea of Cambodia, who have been Extension Service guests for agricultural studies in Georgia, also went to Chicago.

Panel Votes State Farm Economies

By BRUCE GALPHIN

A reorganization panel Friday approved a plan to eliminate overlapping of crops, machinery and processing equipment in the state's far-flung institutional farming programs.

Under the plan, the farms would remain under their present administrative agencies, such as Corrections and Health.

But an over-all advisor would be named to aid in elimination of dollar-wasting, overlapping programs.

The panel said, for instance, that various institutional farms might be able to draw on an equipment pool, thereby ending the need for equipping each separately.

And the canning facilities of the massive Reidsville state prison farm might be used by other farms.

SURPLUSES TACKLED

Similarly, with overlapping planning, the farms could stop piling surpluses on a given crop. (For example, Reidsville last year produced far more tomatoes than it could use in a year's time.)

The unified farming operations also would be able to draw on the advice and aid of University System agricultural experts.

The unified plan was approved in principle by the Agriculture subcommittee of the Governor's Commission on Economy and Reorganization Friday. It will go to the full commission after staff experts iron out details.

UNSETTLED DETAIL

One of the unsettled details is deciding under which agency to place the proposed advisor-director.

Staff Director M. W. H. Collins told the panel that the new program would cost about $20,000 a year for a director, secretary and travel expenses. But he said that much could be saved many times over by the program.

The largest institutional farm is at Reidsville, the second largest at the Milledgeville State Hospital. Others are located at various prison branches, at the Boys' Training School and Battey State Hospital.

The Agriculture subcommittee, composed of Farm Bureau President John Duncan, House Speaker George Smith and W. H. Montague, also took under advisement a report on the Forestry Commission and Forest Research Council prepared by Dr. Kenneth P. Davis of the University of Michigan forestry division.

Symphony To Play at Milledgeville

The Atlanta Symphony will give a free performance of Christmas carols for patients at Milledgeville State Hospital at 4 p.m. Monday in the hospital auditorium.

Atlanta Symphony programs for Christmas were held for two years, then discontinued five years ago because of a lack of interest by hospital officials, a spokesman for the symphony said.

While at Milledgeville Monday, the symphony also will give performances at 2:30 p.m. at Georgia State College for Women, for elementary school children and at 8:30 p.m. at GSCW for patrons of the symphony.

Grant Field Takes Georgia Spotlight!

The Jackets of Georgia Tech and the Bulldogs of the University of Georgia meet this afternoon at Grant Field in another contest of a football series which despite the patina of years never loses its newness and appeal.

Georgia is the conference champion. Wally Butts is back with a great team and one and all, including the Techs, are pleased to see him do well because he is a fine person and coach.

Only one thing would please the Engineers more. That would be to upset the champions. The Jackets have done well themselves. They have lost three games by the merest handful of points. They won games they should have lost and dropped some they should have taken.

The Jackets will be the underdog today by a few points. But this only tends to make the Georgia partisans shiver more than usual. Upsets are the rule in these games. The form frequently takes a beating.

With one brief emotional interruption, the two teams have met annually since 1893. Each has won 24 games. Five have been ties.

Representatives of four bowls—Orange, Gator, Bluebonnet and Liberty—will be watching. So good is football in our state and so interesting the football played by both Georgia and Tech that even the loser is likely to be asked to perform in one of them.

As usual, good hunting, gentlemen, and may the better team win!

Nehru Learns Lesson: Resist Reds or Perish

India and Prime Minister Nehru finally are being forced to learn the bitter lesson which nations of the West learned the hard way in those frustrating years following World War II.

Reduced to simple terms the lesson is that weakness and passive neutrality invite Communist aggression. Every concession, every effort to appease and to insure peace and security through mutual trust become means for further aggression.

Nehru, who has been one of the West's worst critics for its policies toward the Communists, has been of the school of thought that peaceful coexistence was indeed possible. He has upheld the cause of Communist China, urging its admission to the United Nations. But now he must face the possibility of war to stop continued aggression against India's borders by the bandits of Peiping.

"There are some things no nation can tolerate," Nehru says now, "any attack on its honor, on the integrity of its territory." Surely he must remember Tibet and the nations of Europe which are held in the iron claw of aggression.

Nehru had tried to establish an Asian solidarity which now has turned to ashes. But the remaining free nations, seeing the lesson of Tibet and now of India, are moving toward establishment of a united front against aggression such as the West was forced to do more than a decade ago.

If there is indeed an awakening and resistance to Communist Chinese aggression in Asia, it should have our full support and encouragement.

Newest Rocket Failure Weakens U.S. Position

Another failure to launch a moon rocket successfully is another in a long series of disappointments which prove the United States still lags in space exploration. It will be at least another year before we can hope to have a rocket ready which can match the present Soviet power and even this is problematical

And still there is a dangerous official apathy about our lagging efforts. This is unjustified if for no other reason than the tremendous propaganda weapon our failures give the Soviets. Each of their successes gives them added prestige in those nations which seek ways and means for industrial development and economic aid and leadership.

Meanwhile, evidence continues to mount that Khrushchev's recent friendly overtures have added to this official apathy. Pressures for a balanced budget and reduced spending at the expense of national defense provide a great temptation for politicians in an election year. It is more than ever important that we not delude ourselves that essential Russian aims have changed.

True enough, Khrushchev's approach appears to be entirely different from that of Stalin. But nowhere has he indicated any retreat from aggressive Communist intentions to destroy our society.

Our lagging space efforts are only one of the ways in which the West's position is being weakened. The growing tendency to believe that everything will come out all right, a feeling which emanates from the highest echelons in Washington, is resulting in a relaxation which the facts do not support.

There're Ways for You To Help Mental Patients

Accompanying the mounting public concern over the plight of Georgia's mentally ill have come numerous queries from individuals as to how they can help.

There are ways.

First, you can play a part in seeing to it that each patient is remembered at Christmas.

The Atlanta Association for Mental Health is asking that individually wrapped gifts be turned in at 590 Peachtree St. for distribution to inmates of the Milledgeville State Hospital and Gracewood Children's Hospital. Each package should be marked either "man," "woman," "boy" or "girl."

Mrs. Samuel Hirsch, chairman of the project, pointed out that gifts are needed for approximately 1,500 children and 12,000 adults.

Meanwhile, all of Georgia's 430 incorporated cities have been requested to obtain gifts for patients at the State Hospital. Delivery of the presents is to be made in connection with the mayors' motorcade to the institution Dec. 16. The motorcade was suggested by Mrs. Ernest Vandiver and is being sponsored by the Georgia Municipal Assn.

Cooperation with these projects will make Christmas more than just another day for long-neglected patients. Your support also will add to your enjoyment of the Christmas season.

Between now and January there is still another way individuals can help. Contact your legislators and let them know you want the mental health program to be given top priority at the forthcoming session of the General Assembly.

Rep. Landrum Is Object Of Undeserved Wrath

Union picketing of Rep. Phil Landrum's Kiwanis Club address at McCaysville is illustrative of the misunderstanding many in organized labor have as to the contents and purposes of the Landrum-Griffin Labor Reform Act.

Unions that are operated properly having nothing to fear from the legislation. Neither does the rank-and-file of labor.

Indeed, the very purpose of the bill is to prevent the honest, dues-paying union members from being victimized by corrupt leadership as has been the case in so many instances.

The day will come when the conscientious members of the labor movement will recognize the act which Rep. Landrum co-authored as being in their best interest.

Meanwhile, it is regrettable that the wrath of organized labor is being heaped upon Rep. Landrum for his efforts to enable the average union member to have an effective voice in union affairs.

Proposed Parking Bans Should Be Permanent

Parking bans for 20 stretches of Atlanta streets, as voted by the Traffic and Transportation Commission, should be effected immediately in order to expedite the flow of vehicles during the Christmas shopping season.

The commission also decided that studies should be made to determine whether some of the bans should be made permanent. There should be no doubt by now as to the necessity of coming to grips with the problem.

With the population rise and increased number of vehicles in use here, Atlanta simply cannot afford to spare a lane along a heavily traveled artery. Especially is that true of the central core where prohibiting of street parking is essential to prevent traffic strangulation.

The sooner all concerned realize that Atlanta streets must serve to keep traffic moving rather than as hitching posts for individual vehicles the better it will be for the business life of the community and for motorists.

The recommended parking restrictions should be put into effect at once and made to stick.

"Don't shoot. I'm a juvenile."

These words came from the mouth of a Duval County man of 19 as he and two companions were caught by police in the act of attacking with hammers and wrenches three families on a picnic at Seminole Beach. The three have pleaded guilty to charges of aggravated assault and been given deferred sentences.

But the five words uttered will be remembered because they summarize an attitude that underlies much juvenile trouble. The young lawless think their age protects them.

Grocery Shoppers Are Advised To Read Labels on Foods Specifying Ingredients

Atlanta—You are to be commended for your editorials in the Constitution under the headings: "Case of the Cranberries Is Distressing Symptom" and "Public Needs Protection in Testing of Foods."

If the American people could be made to realize the necessity for reading labels on packages of processed foods they haul away from the food stores in such large quantities they could learn a lot. And if they would do a bit of studying of the chemical composition of some of the ingredients listed on these labels some of them at least would be shocked to see how little real food they are eating. Then, perhaps, some would no longer wonder why we have so many new and degenerative diseases. The public should also realize that their tax money is paying for puttting those labels on processed and packaged foods to let them know what is in the packages.

Thank you very much for your part in trying to awaken and inform the people about the very serious matters facing our food and drug administration.

Principal Says Adults Disillusion Teens

Lithonia—In speaking to an area PTA meeting held at Murphy Candler School recently, W. L. Colombo, principal of Lithonia School, put forth some ideas that seem to me worthy of consideration. Colombo was speaking on the needs of the teen-agers. He pointed out their need for family love and security, real heroes with ideals and purposes and examples of responsibility and honesty in adult society.

In connection with the last point he asked why adults still sell fireworks when it is against the law. He asked why the tobacco industry was not requested to be honest in its advertising and why the automobile industry was not asked to make cars with a built-in speed limit. Their financial resources are somewhat larger than the school's. MARY C. KELLEY.

Why Do Americans Balk at Loyalty Oath?

Chicago — The loyalty oath is fiercely opposed and denounced at many American universities. Educators and students charge that it is distasteful and insulting. Their stand is puzzling.

Why should any loyal citizen object to affirming his allegiance to the United States?

The House Committee on un-American Activities continues to amass shocking evidence of Communist sabotage against our country. America today stands in greater need of dedicated patriots than ever before.

The greatest danger to America is neither inflation nor the national debt. It is international communism.

Atlantan Lambastes 'Cheap' Education

Atlanta—I would like to bring to your attention a grave injustice in our American way of life.

Today the theme seems to be to turn out education as cheaply as possible. We are in the space age yet the teachers in our schools are paid a horse and buggy wage. We ask these teachers to give untiringly of their time and devotion. They are perhaps the most important people in our world of today because they are responsible for the education of our scientists, statesmen and specialists of tomorrow.

The salary of some of our Georgia teachers is $3,400 per year. This same teacher could make double that in private industry or 10 times that figure in the entertainment field. What incentive are we offering them to continue to be teachers of our children? These are well-educated people who could easily make careers in other fields. Each one must feel a special dedication to continue his lifetime work.

All Counties Would Benefit From Equalizing of Taxes

Among the facts of life we in the smaller counties are going to have to face sooner or later is the certainty that our tax structures will have to be overhauled. We have played "pore folks" for years, demanding and getting a considerable slice of the tax money paid in other and richer counties.

This really isn't as disgraceful as it might appear as most of these funds go for education and the smaller counties have consistently exported many of their brighter youngsters to jobs elsewhere. So it seems only fair that "elsewhere" ought to help us educate them.

But to be honest, aren't we doing everything possible to pay just as little tax as we can get by with while demanding more and better of everything taxes can buy? We return our property at a fraction of its value and slap so high a rate of levy on it that it scares the daylights out of any business that wants to locate here.

A man with a $12,000 house and furnishings and appliances worth $2,000 will blandly value the property for taxation so low that his homestead exemption excuses him from all general taxes on his home and all that's in it.

Inequities inevitably develop with properties of approximately equal value varying widely in digest values. One Pike Countian complained the other day that his 100 acres of land with no improvements on it is taxed on a value of about $12 per acre while his adjoining neighbor, who has a good dwelling, outhouses and an excellent fish pond that brings cash almost daily, pays taxes on all that property at a valuation of about $9 per acre. And, of course, neither of these men would consider selling his property at several times the returned valuation. And the game continues on a countywide basis with each of us trying to outdo the rest of us in undervaluing his property for taxation and the county as a whole trying to outdo other counties in paying little and getting much.

It is only fair that the smaller counties should receive help from the more prosperous counties but we might as well realize that the other counties are going to demand that we begin to carry a more equitable part of our load.

Besides, isn't it about time we quit playing "pore folks" and with growing pride and self-respect voluntarily accept more of the cost of running our own affairs? No one likes to pay taxes. But taxes are part of the cost of governing ourselves. It is a sign of maturity that we realize that things we want cost money and that we must accept our financial responsibilities to a fuller extent.

Butler Committee Adds a Southerner

WASHINGTON—Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has at long last persuaded a real, live Dixie politician to join his heretofore all-Yankee Democratic Advisory Committee. But there is great question as to who has won over whom. The DAC for years has been boycotted not only by all powerful Southerners but also by all the principal Democratic leaders in Congress, Northern and Southern.

Mainly this has been due to the resentment of congressional figures whether liberal or not at DAC's efforts to say what ought to be done on legislative issues. Congress figures legislation is Congress' business and not the business of an unelected body like DAC. DAC is, after all, the creation of the Democratic National Committee. And no national committee has either responsibility or power as such.

The Republicans, at least, have never thought otherwise. They, too, had a kind of "advisory committee" of earnest nonprofessional people. But they keep their advisory committee well up in the stratosphere. There it proclaims vast and cloudy goals that annoy no faction of the party.

Any thought of having the GOP Advisory Committee criticize the Republican Party in Congress, as the DAC regularly criticizes the Democratic Party there, would be treated as madness.

In short, the official, professional GOP campaign organization, the Republican National Committee, is and certainly will remain the absolute boss. But the Democratic Advisory Committee is another thing altogether. It numbers the great prima donnas of the party. It has infinitely more influence through such figures as Harry Truman and Eleanor Roosevelt than its parent the Democratic National Committee itself. Gov. Leroy Collins' belated decision to join this team, therefore, has significance far beyond what meets the eye.

First, it means this: The moderate Southerners, of whom Collins is representative, have decided to let Butler have a free run no longer with one of his favorite complaints of persecution. His cry has been that the Southerners would not join DAC simply because of hostility to his strong pro-civil rights stand.

Second: The congressonal wing of the party has to a degree, and indirectly through Collins, now joined what it could not altogether lick. The congressional leaders, who are moderate to conservative in view, will have on the DAC a new spokesman in Collins—and an elected politican at that. It won't necessarily follow that the DAC hereafter will be less displeased with the Democratic Congress. But it is a good bet that it will be less vocally displeased through the efforts of this Floridian bridge.

A Matchmaker For the Elderly

A Florida hotel needs a night clerk. A retired Atlantan seeks a job in Florida so that he may supplement his pension in the sunshine clime. The Employment Referral Service for Senior Citizens becomes the match maker and the senior citizen in Atlanta takes his place behind the desk in the Florida hotel. An elderly couple in the city moves to the country to tend a home and garden for some Atlanta folk. Here, too, the intermediary is this same Employment Referral Service.

A woman who needs companionship finds it in reading two hours a day to a blind neighbor. Another woman who went out on a single-shot babysitting job now has her Saturday nights permanently filled at child care.

A retired executive has become the office manager for a small firm here, one in need of a man of his time and talents.

The ERS arranged these happy alliances.

The ERS is a nonprofit enterprise which charges no fees and asks no funds. It seeks only to help the retired and the elderly to useful, gainful happy lives and to make available to the community the services of those whose energy and ability are by no means exhausted.

The address is 7 11th St., headquarters of the Golden Age Clubhouse. The sponsor is the Atlanta Section, Council of Jewish Women, with the United Church Women cooperating. Volunteer workers are on the job at the ERS from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The phone is TR. 5-9443.

Oh, by the way, you don't have to be a centenarian to be eligible.

The list starts at 50 and the number of eligibles increases every day.

NO TICKETS: One thing the Employment Referral Service cannot do—nor can anyone else it seems — is get you tickets to the game at Grant Field this afternoon. According to last count, 59,232 of those precious admission slips are desperately needed.

INEXPERIENCED: Frank Wesley, Atlantan now enjoying Lakeland, Fla., as secretary and publisher for the Florida Plumbing and Heating Assn., says the president of the University of Florida came into the area and told how the school had banned automobiles to underclassmen when cars on the campus rose to about 11,000.

After the ban the auto population went down and the bicycle count went up to around 3,800. A freshman was hurt riding a bicycle. Informed of the injury, the mother said, "I'm surprised. He's been driving his own car since he was 16 but he never did learn to ride a bicycle."

Branches of Faith Narrow Their Gap

Sometime ago at a meeting of pastors representing various church affiliations, a speaker scolded us because, as he put it, we are too narrow in our religious loyalties. He was speaking in behalf of Christian unity. I did not have an opportunity to speak up but had such an occasion been given to me I would have said that we pastors and our people are not as far apart as the speaker suggested.

I looked about in the room and saw pastors who represented more than 18 denominations. We were all mixed together and the proverbial man from Mars could not have discerned any differences among us. We had come together to discuss and share our mutual concerns and we had already worshiped together in unity of spirit and of truth.

Christians are the body of Christ. We may be many members but we are one body in Christ. We should not forget this. And I don't think we have. Let me document what I have in mind.

Back at the turn of the century invitations were sent to Christian groups throughout the world for conference on unity. No group responded.

Two decades later when a similar invitation went out 20 responses were received.

But by 1948 the Spirit of the Lord had been working mightily in our midst. At the Amsterdam convocation of the World Council of Churches 147 denominations from 42 countries were present.

Six years later at the Evanston meeting there were registrants from 163 denominations representing 48 countries.

Three years later 170 denominations from 50 countries came together at Yale University for the meeting of the Central Committee of the World Council.

Where in all the world could you find such a meeting of men who are working, not for an exact similarity of thought, but for a common basis in Christ for cooperation? Indeed, as William Temple has said, this unity in Christ is the one great fact of twentieth century Christianity.

Back in 1948 the people attending the Amsterdam convocation affirmed, "We have come together and we intend to stay together." Six years later at Evanston the churches through their leaders declared: "To stay together is not enough. We must go forward. As we learn more of our unity in Christ, it becomes the more intolerable that we are divided."

Within our Christian community we now have and no doubt shall long have a unity in diversity. By this I mean that, although individually we shall maintain our affiliation with particular branches of the tree of faith, we are all grafted upon the one vine which is Christ.

Sales Tax Growth Engulfs Taxpayer

Something is being done about death and taxes. Modifications, however, are moving in opposite directions. Medical scientists with new drugs and new techniques are at least postponing the final reckoning but political scientists are working feverishly to perfect both the swiftness and finality of tax inevitability.

A current survey reveals the seven Southeastern states are drawing upon nearly 400 sources for tax revenue. Alabama collected $28,000 the last fiscal year from playing cards and punch boards. (There is no such thing as a pat hand; the government's already drawn for you.) Florida helped tune up its treasury with a $7,000 levy on copyrighted music. North Carolina grabbed a $11,000 ride with a tax on carnivals and circuses. South Carolina took in $22,000 on poolrooms. (This may be a cue for other states.) Mississippi pocketed $1,341,000 with its black market tax on illegal liquor. Tennessee got $38,000 with a tax on shells. (The survey didn't say what kind but since the Volunteer State has no coast one can assume they were not seashells. There wouldn't be enough bandshells in the state to bring in such a sum. They must be shotgun shells.)

If a person could arrange his affairs where he would buy no consumer goods and if he could forego the sophistication of an automobile he could evade 63 per cent of the taxes in the Southeast. Sixty-three per cent of all state taxes in the area are derived from the sales tax and vehicular taxes.

Georgia in the fiscal year ending June 30 got $133,288,000 or 39.4 per cent of its tax income from the sales tax. Vehicular taxes (including the gasoline levy) brought in $96,897,000 or 28.7 per cent. The two sources accounted for 68.1 per cent of the state's tax take of $338,000,000.

The U.S. Department of Commerce survey reveals income taxes represented only 6.6 per cent of the tax income in the Southeast and corporation payments on the basis of net income and general taxes contributed a mere 6.4 per cent of the total. Property taxes yielded only 2.1 per cent.

As the cost of government with its many services rises, the load settles more and more upon the ordinary citizen. Georgia's collection of 39.4 per cent of its taxes through the sales tax —(the highest ratio in the Southeastern region)—is ample evidence.

This sales-tax money represents in many instances a tax on the total income of persons in lower and middle income brackets (since they must spend all they make to live). Those in higher income levels get off better, tax percentage-wise, provided they are able to sock away some of the cash.

Shell Beach's position relative to the impending tidewater seaway seems to be the understandable one of not wanting to be left entirely on the half-shell.

A Christian Scientist Ends Misconceptions

Mrs. Ella E. Hay, internationally known writer, educator and Christian Science lecturer, cleared up at least one popular misconception and offered some straightforward comments on Christian Science in an interview here Friday.

In Atlanta for a public lecture at Grace Methodist Church, Mrs. Hay defined Christian Science as "understanding God and living and practicing that understanding; in that way we do heal the sick."

NO FAITH HEALING

But Christian Scientists do not accept faith healing.

"We believe sickness is a mistake about God and man," says Mrs. Hay, "and sickness can be healed by changing our concept of God."

The Christian Scientists understand God "not as Superman" but as infinite person, infinite mind, infinite love, infinite spirit, according to Mrs. Hay.

They do not believe in "Jesus as God," says Mrs. Hay, but "as a wonderful expression of God's truth."

CREDITS FAITH

Mrs. Hay became a Christian Scientist as a young girl, credits the faith with her recovery from two major surgeries. A frequent contributor to The Christian Science Monitor, she has also authored a number of books for children, among them, "A Child's Life of Mary Baker Eddy."

St. John Feast

The feast of its patron, St. John Chrysostom of the Fourth Century, will be observed Sunday at a solemn celebration of the Divine Liturgy of the Mass according to the Byzantine Rite at St. John Melkite Roman Catholic Church. Bishop Francis E. Hyland will preside at the Mass, and Father William Haddad, pastor of St. John Church, will officiate, assisted by Father Joseph Raya, Birmingham, Ala.

Bishop Arthur J. Moore will address 50 Methodist laymen and ministers of the North Georgia Conference meeting for a church extension workshop Dec. 3 at Rock Eagle Park, Eatonton. . . . M. William Breman, a member of the Hebrew Benevolent Congregation, has been named a state chairman of the Combined Campaign for American Reform Judaism. . . . Methodists Set DeKalb Expansion

Six new Methodist churches in the fast growing residential areas around Decatur are slated to be organized within the next six years.

Eight hundred laymen and their families met at First Methodist Church in Decatur this week and organized the Decatur-Oxford District Board of Missions and Church Extension.

A total of 425 laymen joined "The $10 Church Extension Club." Immediate goal of this club is 1,000 members. Each member agrees to pay $10 each time a new church is started, provided not more than two calls are made in any one conference year.

First of the proposed new churches will be started early next year in the Pine Lake-Allgood road area, according to Rev. Delma Hagood, of Oxford, district superintendent.

A six-acre lot has already been purchased, and plans are to organize in a school building if possible.

Other areas in which the Methodists hope to build include Dunaire-Dial Heights; Briarcliff-La Vista; Stone Mountain Memorial Park; Lawrenceville Highway, Rehoboth Community; Highway 78, Hogan's Store section; and Rainbow drive and Columbia drive intersection.

Elected officers of the church extension board are Joe Digby, Decatur, president; W. E. Scott Jr., Conyers, first vice president; Charles Henson Jr., Monroe, second vice president; A. C. Dickey, Eatonton, third vice president; Dr. Hobson Rice, Atlanta, secretary, and C. D. Ramsey Jr., Covington, treasurer.

I JUST MIGHT GO TO GEORGIA TECH!

My older sister says that Agnes Scott is the school, but I want to go where the boys go 'cause they get to do more things like football and all. She's been talking to Dr. Stukes, the education counselor out at Decatur Federal Savings. He's got all the things you need to know about colleges...like what subjects you've got to finish before you can get in...how much it costs and all the other things.

I haven't really made up my mind yet but Daddy says with the way my divvy-dends at Decatur Federal Savings are adding up, I'll be able to join a sorority (of course if I go to Ga. Tech I'll probably be in a fraternity). Daddy says anybody can start making college plans with Dr. Stukes and if you save for it at Decatur Federal Savings you can have enough extra divvy-dends to be in a sorority (or fraternity). The sooner you start the less it takes... specially at Decatur Federal Savings.

Bowls, 44,000 Are Waiting For Tech, Georgia Winner

Jesse OUTLAR

★ Sports Editor ★

A Bowl Venture

If you had suggested last September that Georgia would be wearing the SEC crown in the season finale against Georgia Tech and four bowl committees would be eagerly awaiting the outcome of Saturday's match at Grant Field, they'd have recommended you to the man in the white coat.

But that's the illuminating picture as the Bulldogs and Engineers lock horns for the 54th time in one of football's truly great rivalries. The colorful series is even at 24-24-5, and the upcoming scrap is rated a toss-up.

Outlar

Bowl speculation will continue until the final whistle sounds in Jacksonville, Fla., and Atlanta. Orange Bowl delegates won't be in the reception line for the winner here if Miami beats Florida. It's common knowledge that Andy Gustafson's Hurricane can breeze into a bowl bout with Missouri by bowling over Florida.

If Bob Woodruff's Gators pull off a mild upset, however, the Orange, Gator, Bluebonnet and possibly the Liberty Bowl will be extending invitations in the dressing rooms at Grant Field. There was a report making the rounds Friday afternoon that Clemson has already accepted a bid to play Penn State in the Liberty Bowl Dec. 19. There was no confirmation from Philadelphia or Clemson, and Liberty promoters have requested ducats for Saturday's scrap here.

The Gator and Bluebonnet bowls definitely want the champion of the state of Georgia and possibly the runner-up.

It's the first time since 1948 that both teams have an outstanding chance of going bowling. On the eve of the bitter bout, however, coaches Wallace Butts and Bobby Dodd were more interested in discussing the weather than in speculating on bowl junkets. Both coaches are hoping for a fast track.

—A 21-Goal Salute to Both Teams

In recent years the underdog Bulldogs have boasted a psychological advantage, but the Engineers have the edge in that vital department this outing. Tech can remove the glitter from Georgia's crown by reeling off a decisive triumph. The Engineers can also move to the front of the bowl line. Then, too, a Bobby Dodd team has never lost to Georgia three straight years. In fact, only Alabama has achieved the feat of handing Dodd three successive setbacks.

Georgia also has added incentive for this one. The Bulldogs quite naturally are unhappy that the bowl folks—excluding the Gator Bowl—haven't rushed to their door with an invitation. In recent years a Sugar Bowl invitation automatically accompanied the SEC crown. But the folks in New Orleans never seriously considered Georgia.

When Georgia downed Auburn in championship style, it was assumed that the Bulldogs would soar into the top five in the poll parade. But the Bulldogs are listed sixth by the AP and UPI.

So Wallace Butts' ambitious young men are anxious to prove once again that they're a much better football team than alleged experts concede.

Actually, both teams have achieved more success than zealous boosters dreamed they could. Georgia rivals the Los Angeles Dodgers as the comeback team of the year in sports, zooming from 10th to first in the SEC standings.

Dodd was sincere last September when he remarked that this positively was no year to discuss bowls at Tech. However, the Chief Engineer proved prophetic when he said that Tech could easily win or lose every game on its card by a narrow margin. Tech's most lopsided triumph was a 10-point success against Clemson. The three defeats—all by a foot—were by one, two and three points.

Regardless of the outcome today, Butts and Dodd, the players and assistants are deserving of a loud round of applause. Both teams have made this one of the most exciting seasons in the history of football in our state, and the best is yet to come.

—Bulldogs Picked To Win by 14-7 Margin

Gentlemen who have no interest in either team, other than the point spread, have declared the game a standoff. In their books, the game is strictly even.

Comparative scores are usually worthless in this fierce feud, but the teams have played three mutual foes. Georgia belted Alabama; Tech lost to the improved Tide two week ago. Both teams almost lost to Kentucky before squeezing out narrow decisions. Tech nipped the Wildcats by two points; Georgia won by seven, but lost the statistical quarrel by a wide margin. Tech bowed to Auburn by one point; Georgia trimmed the Plainsmen by the same margin in a storybook finish.

The Bulldogs have cashed two touchdowns or more against nine opponents. The Engineers have yielded two TDs in only three games, less in the other six. Tech promoted three touchdowns in only one game, scoring three in the final half to overhaul Tulane.

South Carolina, which put the lone blot on Georgia's chart, 30-14, was the only team to crack Ears Whitworth's defense for two touchdowns.

Thus, the game stacks up as a low-scoring affair from our vantage point. In the last five games, the loser in this contest has failed to score a touchdown. However, both teams are apt to cross the goal line Saturday.

There isn't much difference between the squads when you make an individual appraisal. At the vital quarterback post, however, Georgia holds a distinct edge with Francis Tarkenton and Charley Britt at the controls. Tech's Fred Braselton, who sat out the Notre Dame and Alabama bouts, doesn't figure to be in peak shape. With a stronger air attack, Georgia is the choice to win. The score? Georgia 14, Tech 7.

The others: Auburn 20, Alabama 3; Miami 13, Florida 6; Tennessee 14, Vandy 7; Mississippi 21, Mississippi State 7; Army 28, Navy 14; Clemson 35, Furman 7; Boston College 14, Holy Cross 0; South Carolina 20, Wake Forest 13; TCU 20, SMU 7; FSU 28, Tampa 0.

Notre Dame 17, Southern Cal 14; Air Force 21, Colorado 15; Oklahoma 28, Oklahoma State 6; Baylor 14, Rice 7; UCLA 28, Utah 13.

QB Braselton To See Action

in Houston, is especially high on Tech.

One thing will not be at stake on Grant Field, and that is the Southeastern Conference championship. Georgia already has wrapped up the crown and stored it in its showcase of achievements.

All those in a position to know—coaches, writers and oddsmakers—agree Saturday's game is even all the way. Last week Georgia rated a point or a ½-point choice, but the men who call the shots have leveled off odds to take-our-choice.

The weatherman has promised cloudy and cool conditions for the battle. Rain is expected to abate early Saturday, leaving a dry field for the 2 p.m. kickoff. The Grant Field gridiron was under cover Friday night.

Coach Wallace Butts' Bulldogs, who will drive from Athens and go straight to the field, report every member of the squad playable, though Capt.-fullback Don Soberdash is not at his sharpest. He suffered recurrence of a knee injury in the Auburn game, but trainer Sam Richwine says he will be available for combat.

Tech got good news Friday

Ragan Leading By Three Turns in 135 At Palm Beach

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI)—Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla., a lanky young newcomer to the professional golf ranks, shot a seven-under-par 65 Friday to take a surprise three-stroke lead in the $15,000 West Palm Beach Open.

Dave Ragan

Ragan, a 22-year-old former captain of the University of Florida golf team, has been a professional only 13 months. But his 65 with his first-day 70 gave him 135 and an advantage over a field that includes some of the golf world's top names.

Another comparative unknown, and another Floridian, Jay Brewer of Crystal River, Fla., shot a 66 for a 138 and second place.

Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, former Masters and amateur champion, shot 67 for a 139 total and a third-place tie with Gardner Dickinson of Palm Beach, and Pete Cooper of Lakeland, the defending champion. Dickinson had a 68 Friday and Cooper a 69.

John Berry of Tallahassee, in a three-say tie for the opening day lead with a 68, slipped to a 73 Friday and dropped to a three-way tie for fifth place. He said the gusty wind, which switched from the northeast to the south, bothered him.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. Auburn's Tigers, who barely got out of a Bear trap alive here last year, rule 6½-point favorites to claw bowl-hopeful Alabama for the state football championship Saturday.

A sellout audience of more than 45,000 will assemble under cloudy skies at Legion Field for the 2 p.m. (CST) kickoff.

Most signs point toward a defensive struggle.

Auburn's return to football power under coach Radph Jordan has been based on a firm defensive foundation, the unbeaten 1957 and 1958 Tigers leading the nation on defense.

Before coming home to Tuscaloosa as head coach, Bear Bryant had constructed impressive football combinations at Maryland, Kentucky and Texas A&M that were notable defensive successes. Bryant has lost none of his defensive touch since taking over the Crimson Tide.

Bear Setting A New Trap?

Both teams have allowed only seven touchdowns in nine games. Auburn has permitted an average of only 5.3 points a game, third lowest figure in the land. And Alabama's national pass defense leaders have yielded but 5.8.

However, Auburn has been much more formidable offensively this autumn. Although unimpressive as air travelers, the Tigers rank second only to Ole Miss in Southeastern Conference total offense because of a superior rushing attack.

This is spearheaded by sophomore quarterback Bobby Hunt and junior fullback Ed Dyas,

Miami Sniffs an Orange Bid, Rebs in Last Sugar Hurdle

Vandy Invades Vol Stadium

By DICK SEWELL

Will Miami get an Orange Bowl bid after a gigantic comeback season?

Will Florida's Bob Woodruff still have his job as head football coach and athletic director late Saturday afternoon?

Bob Woodruff

Those are the big questions making the rounds in Jacksonville, Fla., Saturday before Miami takes on Florida in the Gator Bowl in the annual Sunshine State classic.

All Miami has to do is whip the Gators and build on to its 6-3 record to gain the host berth in the Miami bowl against Missouri on New Year's Day.

And in doing that, Woodruff probably will get the pink slip from irate alumni—after spending 10 years at the Gainesville university.

Coach Andy Gustafson got himself a new coaching staff and has used a sophomore lineup with 14 letteremen, including the invincible Fran Curci, to gain the spotlight in 1959, having racked up a 2-8 record in 1958.

The Gators have a 4-4-1 mark on the year, and the game, since it is traditional and as ancient as anything can be in Florida, must rate as a tossup. Florida is a member of the Southeastern Conference, Miami is not.

Florida must stop Curci if it is expected to win. The 152-pounder has been the big gun for the Hurricanes this year, in passing and running the option play.

While Miami was increasing its stature last week in downing Big Ten power Michigan State, 26-6, Florida was knocking off undermanned Florida State, 18-8. This time, the Gator line will have its measure in Miami, and about the only good point for Florida is its kicking, topped by Bobby Joe Green, fourth in the nation with a 45.3-yard per kick average.

Elsewhere, Mississippi is expected to announce its acceptance of a berth in the Sugar Bowl game to play LSU—for the second time this season. Ole Miss takes on Mississippi State and is favored by four touchdowns.

In the first meeting between the Johnny Rebs and LSU, the Tigers won, 7-3. Jake Gibbs at quarterback and Charley Flowers at fullback are expected to overpower outranked Mississippi State and give impetus to the Sugar Bowl attraction.

Vanderbilt and Tennessee meet Saturday in Knoxville with the Commodores looking for their first football victory over the Volunteers in that Tennessee city since 1937.

The Vols have two straight losses against them, having been dropped by Ole Miss, 7-37, and Kentucky, 0-20. In Tom Moore, Vandy has one of the most respected runners in the SEC. He has accounted for 992 yards this year, 569 rushing and 170 on passes, 62 on pass interceptions and 191 on kickoff returns.

Vandy and Tennessee currently are tied for seventh place in the 12-team league with .500 percentages. Vandy is 2-2-2 and the Vols are 3-3-1.

CLEMSON TO LIBERTY?

Tech, Georgia in Miami Race

Georgia and Georgia Tech are in the running for berths in four bowl games as the season draws to a close before a packed house at Grant Field Saturday afternoon.

The Bulldogs are said to favor the Orange Bowl, which, in turn, favors Miami University if the hometown team gets by Florida at Jacksonville.

Should Miami go bowling at home, it is likely Georgia and Georgia Tech will migrate toward the Gator and Bluebonnet games.

Clemson is a good bet to make an appearance against Penn State in the first annual Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia. The Tigers end their season against Furman at Greenville Saturday.

Briefly, here is the bowl picture:

Orange—Missouri vs. Georgia-Tech winner or Miami.

Gator—Arkansas vs. Georgia-Georgia Tech winner, Clemson and Alabama darkhorses.

Bluebonnet — TCU vs. Georgia-Tech winner, or loser. It is understood Bluebonnet will take loser in a close game.

Liberty—Penn State vs. Clemson or SMU. Georgia Tech in running.

William Jennings Bryan Dorn, Greenwood, S.C., congressman from the Third District, Friday offered another solution.

He wired both coach Frank Howard of Clemson and Wally Butts of Georgia, suggesting "that since both had been bypassed in some bowl pictures," they meet in a Textile Bowl, to be played in Athens, Atlanta or Clemson for "the real championship of the South."

Georgia is Southeastern Conference titleholder; Clemson won the Atlantic Coast Conference crown.—THOMY.

Hunter Gets Split Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Hunter, a technical knockout winner over Alex Miteff in September, won a split decision over the Argentine Friday night at Madison Square Garden in a blood-spattered 10-rounder.

Referee Ruby Goldstein scored it 5-4-1 for Hunter and judge Leo Birnbaum voted for Hunter by a 6-4 margin. Judge Charlie Rosen had Miteff out front 6-4.

Army Duels Navy Today

Lonely-End Propelled Cadets TD Favorite at Philadelphia

NEW YORK (AP)—Army vs. Navy, the kingpin of all rivalries for color, pageantry and hard-nosed football, tops a traditional weekend schedule of college football Saturday that also features a host of interesting neighborhood battles.

But don't shut the door on the season, even though this is the last big weekend. Not by a long shot. For the best may be yet to come next Saturday (Dec. 5) when Syracuse, top-ranked in the Associated Press poll for the past three weeks, must make the ranking stick against a strong UCLA team if it wants the mythical national championship.

The fact that Syracuse isn't playing this weekend won't detract from the fireworks that are expected from coast-to-coast. Five bowl spots are due to be filled and there is a share in the Southwest Conference title at stake.

The great interest, however, still is in the 60th inter-service classic in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium. More than 100,000 spectators and a national television audience are expected to watch mediocre (for them) Army and Navy teams perform at their season's peak. Game time is 1:30 p.m. with TV handled by NBC.

Army, a one touchdown favorite, will rely on its lonely end offense powered by quarterback Joe Caldwell and ends Bill Carpenter and Don Usry. Navy's Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield, a pair of agile quarterbacks, will fire Navy's big salvos. Army's Bob Anderson and Navy's Joe Bellino are top running threats.

Army, 4-3-1 this year, leads the series 30-24-5. Navy has a 4-4-1 log.

Five of the nation's top ranked teams—Louisiana State (No. 3), Texas (No. 4), Wisconsin (No. 5), Washington (No. 9) and Arkansas (No. 10) have finished their seasons and are waiting to play in bowl games.

But only three have opponents. Wisconsin and Washington are set for the Rose Bowl and Texas faces Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl. The others are going to get partners over the weekend, in addition to some non-rankers who have accepted bids.

Mississippi (No. 2) probably goes into the Sugar Bowl against LSU if it beats intra-state rival Mississippi State (3-6). The bowl game would be a replay of Ole Miss' only loss (7-3) in nine games to date.

Georgia, Southeastern Conference king at 6-0, ends its regular season against conference and back yard foe Georgia Tech (6-3). The Bulldogs (No. 6) can't announce bowl plans until after the game but indications are that it will pair with Arkansas in the Gator Bowl.

Texas Christian, looking for a victory to tie Arkansas and Texas for the SWC lead, meets Southern Methodist. The eighth-ranked Horned Frogs form the known half of the Bluebonnet pairing while SMU is one of the teams being considered for Philly's Liberty Bowl against Penn State. Georgia Tech is another.

Miami (Fla.), 12th ranked with a 6-3 record, is looking for the host spot in the Orange Bowl if it beats Florida 4-4-1. Big eighth runner-up Missouri is already in the classic.

The midwest's big game has Notre Dame (4-5) at home to seventh-ranked Southern California, unbeaten until it lost to UCLA las week. The Irish will be striving to finish at .500 in coach Joe Kuharich's first season.

UCLA warms up for its game with Syracuse against Utah.

Other top rivalry games include:

East: Boston College at Holy Cross.

South: Auburn at Alabama; Vanderbilt at Tennessee; Clemson at Furman; Florida State at Tampa; South Carolina at Wake Forest.

Midwest: Air Force at Colorado; Oklahoma State at Oklahoma.

Southwest: Baylor at Rice.

Far West: Arizona at Arizona State.

REDEMPTION DAY FOR ACADEMIES

Army's Anderson Puts a Bitter Season on Navy Line

By ARTHUR DALEY

Copyright, The New York Times Company, 1959

NEW YORK—This has been a strange and unhappy football season for both Army and Navy. The service teams will rendezvous in the Philadelphia stadium on Saturday, a date that is now grimly regarded at West Point and Annapolis as Redemption Day. Each has much to redeem, unexpectedly so.

At the beginning of the campaign the Cadets and the Midshipmen seemed destined to be up among the nation's leaders and seemed likely to rank one-two for Eastern honors at the very least. But football is like horse racing, which contains in the tongue-in-cheek words of Grantland Rice, "an element of uncertainty."

Army has lost three and tied one. Navy has lost four and tied one. Those are rather shocking statistics and must be rather embarrassing to a pair of fine young men who deserve a much better shake of fortune's dice. They are Dale Hall, the successor to the revered Red Blaik as Army coach, and Wayne Hardin, the successor to the popular Eddie Erdelatz as Navy coach.

Neither is to blame. A parallel may be found in the story that Peahead Walker tells of the football game in the backwoods country. The star halfback of one hillbilly team lay inert on the gridiron as the hillbilly coach and the hillbilly doctor rushed out.

"He ain't breathin'," said the medical man.

"You're the doctor," shrieked the coach, "make him breathe."

The learned medical men at West Point and Annapolis were able to keep their heroes breathing but they were unable to keep them in a total state of repair. Both Hall and Hardin have been forced to use the walking wounded—or almost so.

The injury jinx has hit both squads with unbelievable effect, decimating them and desolating them at the same time. The Black Knights from the Plains have lost 28 players at one time or another, including repeaters. The Middies have been whacked in 18 tender spots. What's more, few of the invalids performed at maximum capacity after climbing off their wheelchairs and returning to action.

COACH DALE HALL JOINS ARMY BIG GUN IN PRE-NAVY HUDDLE

Halfback Bob Anderson Gets Final Word Before Saturday's Navy Showdown

To this sideline observer the most tragic of the figures involved in the mass hospitalization was Bob Anderson of Army. The conviction here is that he's the best college football player in the land. He could skirt the ends or slash the tackles with the nimble-footed speed of a Glenn Davis. He could splinter a line with the destructiveness of a Doc Blanchard. He was deadly effective on the run-or-pass option play, as well as being a gifted pass-catcher.

Those are highly imposing qualifications for even a small football player. But Andy is 6 feet 2 and a compact 205 pounds. What's more, he has been Army's best blocker, best tackler and best defensive performer. As a sophomore he made virtually every All-America team in the country and did almost as well last year as a junior.

A season ago Anderson proved his true class. The opposition had loaded all defenses against him and the shrewd Blaik promptly reorganized his own attacking plans so that Army could strike to the opposite side with Pete Dawkins. And the blocker who kept Dawkins springing loose for touchdowns and All-America honors was Andy. And he added to the Dawkins effectiveness by doing more passing than running on the options. So marked was his unselfishness that Blaik gave him a gentle needle.

"What's the matter, boy?" asked the Redhead. "Don't you want to be a hero this year?"

This was the season when the big kid from the Cape Canaveral area of Florida looked primed for a rocket-like ascent into the stratosphere. He barely got off the launching pads. Early in the second game of the campaign, the one against Illinois, he was hurt and missed the next three engagements.

He was the workhorse and the biggest gainer in the early stages of the tie with the Air Force but that trick knee hindered him thereafter. Then the cartilage locked during practice before the Oklahoma game. He got in for three plays.

Now Andy is facing his farewell as a West Point football player. He was running well this week and could make the farewell a blazer. If so, Navy is in trouble.

The service classic will be staged as usual for the benefit of the athletic associations at West Point and Annapolis. It would seem more fitting in this injury-laden campaign that they make the proper bow by donating everything to the Red Cross.

Lothridge-Directed Elephants Trample South Cobb, 35-0

Gainesville Rolls, 35-0

BY CHARLIE ROBERTS

Constitution Sports Writer

GAINESVILLE—Coach Graham Hixon's Red Elephants, The Constitution's top-ranked Class AA football team, and Billy Lothridge, No. 1 player in the universe, to Gainesville fans, all but swept South Cobb's Eagles from City Park Stadium, 35-0, to win the Region 4-AA Friday night.

A crowd of 4,000 braved a sometimes-falling rain to see the Gainesville legions, sparked by the incomparable Lothridge, storm for two touchdowns in each of the first two quarters and coast to triumph over the outmanned invaders.

The smashing victory will carry the once-beaten Elephants into the North Georgia Championship playoff with Saturday night's Cedartown-Rossville survivor next Friday night in either Cedartown or Rossville.

Quarterback Lothridge chose to carry the ball only four times, ripping up 36 yards, but he scored one touchdown, passed for another, kicked five consecutive extra points and ran his point total for the year to 124. He also kicked off repeatedly into the end zone and—playing sideback at times, linebacker at others — was the most devastating tackler on the field.

THE YARDSTICK

SOUTH COBB (0)		GAINESVILLE (35)
7	First Downs	18
-22	Yards Rushing	273
143	Yards Passing	53
20	Yards Penalized	15

Lothridge, who has made 40 extra point tries in 46 attempts this season, began his tremendous play by booting the opening kickoff to the two-yard line—there was no return—then pouncing on a fumble at the four on the second snap to set up the first touchdown.

Bobby Lawson romped for two and Lothridge sneaked the final two yards and tacked on the seventh point from placement.

The next time the Gainesvillians gained possession they rolled 46 yards to paydirt on Lawson's running and 14 and 12 yards Lothridge-to-Billy Martin passes, the big end going into the end zone with the 12-yarder. Lothridge's toe made it 14-0 with 2:15 left in the period.

The next 65-yard sortie featured an 11-yard Lothridge - Martin aerial and the running of two flaming sophomores, Preston Ridlehuber and Johnny Rogers, who were to cavort for 50 yards on five lugs and 49 on nine for the night. Lawson stomped for 49 on 10. Rogers ripped the final yards on this push and Lawson made it 21-0 with 6:00 to go in the second quarter.

A 22-yard end-around romp by Jim Harrison put South Cobb in hot water shortly, but Jerome Prince saved M. E. Kirkland's Eagles by intercepting a Lothridge pass at his own 27. But after Danny Hyatt punted out short with only 20 seconds left in the half, Lawson bolted around end 26 yards to score again.

Second stringers Paul Hall, Richard Venson and Jimmy Coyle pounded 72 yards on 11 runs after the third quarter kickoff to end the scoring for the night. A 32-yard trek by Lothridge—in for only one play—and a 12-yarder by Hall were the big chunks before Hall banged the final two and can't-miss Lothridge true-toed again.

South Cobb came to life after that and dominated the play from there out as quarterback Jackie Hines hit pass after pass to Hyatt, Prince, ends Jimmy Abernathy and red Seagraves. Hines, hard-pressed by a savage defense that left the Eagles with a minus 22 yards rushing, was on target 11 of 23 times for 143 yards.

All that air might netted nary a point, although his pitches once carried the Austell native from his own 11 to the Gainesville 6 in the fourth quarter. Lothridge then threw Prince for a 4-yard loss and Gainesville took over a play later.

Tackles Mike Cole and Charles James, and ends Seagraves and James Daves were exceptionally outstanding defensively for South Cobb despite the lopsided score.

Over-all, the big, rugged Gainesville line and cleverness of Lothridge and Martin, who snagged three key passes for 41 yards, were just too much for the invaders.

South Cobb	0	0	0	0	—0
Gainesville	14	14	7	0	—35

Gainesville Scoring: TDs—Lothridge (2, run); Martin (12, pass from Lothridge); Rogers (1, run); Lawson (26, run); Hall (2, run). PATs—Lothridge (5) (kicks).

Bear 'Trees' Fred Blassie

The Brute, the Bear, was declared the winner over Fred Blassie Friday night in the weekly wrestling matches at City Auditorium before a full house.

In the semi-final, a six-man tag team bout, the team of John Weaver, Tony Marino and Adrian Baillargeon defeated the team of Tokyo, Joe Ed Sharpe and Gorgeous George.

The Bear threw Blassie out the ring three times in the main event.

Marietta Sweeps

Marietta won a high school basketball game Friday night over Sandy Springs, 56-46, and Marietta's girls also won.

WILL BROOKLYN JOIN AMERICAN LEAGUE?

NEW YORK (AP)—The World Telegram and Sun Friday said the American League will consider an expansion plan to include Brooklyn and Minneapolis-St.Paul at its annual meeting Dec. 17.

The story, by Dan Daniel, said the Brooklyn team would play in the 50,000-seat sadium proposed by the city of New York for Flushing Meadows. That stadium and site offer was turned down by Dodger owner Walter O'Malley before he shifted his National League franchise from Brooklyn to Los Angeles two seasons ago.

The plan was proposed by a high official in the American League, the story said, adding that the plan reportedly was discussed by co-owner Dan Topping and Del Webb of the New York Yankees and general manager George Weiss. That American League club would have to approve the addition of another club in its territory.

Weiss, a member of the American League's expansion committee, was quoted as stating that the league decided expansion "to nine or 10 clubs for 1960 was not feasible. The jury now is out on expanding in 1961."

Weiss also was quoted as saying American League president Joe Cronin probably will call an early session of the expansion committee at next month's league meeting in Miami.

'Grant Bowl' Kickoff at 2; Bowls Anxious To Give Bids

when coach Bobby Dodd reported that quarterback Fred Braselton, heart of the Jacket offense most of the season, definitely would play.

"He still is not throwing as he did during the early part of the season," said Dodd, "but he will play."

Jacket place-kicking ace Tommy Wells popped up with a virus Friday, but the illness is not serious enough to keep his big right toe inactive. He will be available for field-goal and extra-point duty.

Wells and his Bulldog opposite number, sophomore Durward Pennington, may play big parts in the Grant Field drama. Booters usually do in an even game.

Tech has put up its aerial warning signal for the game since Georgia will field the SEC's No. 1 passer, Francis Tarkenton, and No. 1 receiver, Bobby Towns. Tarkenton's alternate, Charley Britt, has been equally dangerous in the last two games with Florida and Auburn.

The Bulldogs are not a one-sided team, however. As Dodd said earlier in the week, they have balance and hard-nosed defense.

Halfback Bobby Walden, last year's national collegiate punting champion, has developed into a daring runner. His infantry mate, Bobby Towns, is a track man with good speed, and fullback Bill Godfrey has few superiors as a short-yardage man.

The second unit is equally mobile with long-distance threat Fred Brown and George Guisler at halfback, Tarkenton at the throttle and Soberdash at full. If Soberdash is not up to a full performance, sophomore Wayne Taylor will be utilized.

With the exception of South Carolina, no team has been able to score two touchdowns on a Bulldog defense led by ends Jimmy Vickers and Gorden Kelley, tackles Don Leeburn and Larry Lancaster, guards Pat Dye and Billy Roland and center Dude Thompson. Dye is a bona fide all-America candidate.

To counter this versatile Bulldog combination, the Jackets are expected to depend on a speedy running game and the air-arm of Braselton. Halfbacks Floyd Faucette, Billy Williamson and Frank Nix, fullback Taz Anderson and quarterback Marvin Tibbetts are the boys who put punch into the ground attack. Nix, like Brown, is a speedster who can go all the way.

Braselton has been the most effective Jacket passer. If he is not up to snuff, Dodd indicated he will use Walter Howard on offense.

The Tech defense rests under the capable leadership and example of all-America center Maxie Baughan, a consistently great linebacker.

He will direct ends Gerald Burch and Jack Rudolph, tackles Toby Deese and Billy Shaw, guards Hal Erickson and John Neal Reed of the front ranks. No team has scored over two touchdowns on them, and only three (Kentucky, SMU and Tulane) got that many.

The kicking game is always important in a Tech-Georgia vendetta, and few teams can match the long, spiraling boots of the Jackets' Burch and the Bulldogs' Walden.

Georgia puts an 8-1 record on the Grant Field line against Tech's 6-3. If they do not battle to a tie, one team will take over the lead in the series. Present record reads 24-24-5.

The Bulldogs have won the last two after eight winless years prior to 1957.

There it is, dream game of the year, before a sellout, for lucrative bowl bids, featuring offenses and defenses of the most polished type, long-distance punting and accurate place-kicking.

CHATTANOOGA PARK MAY RENT FOR $1

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Calvin Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, has offered to lease the Chattanooga Lookouts ball park to local interests for $1 a year and permit them to operate the Southern Assn. club. Chances of such a deal materializing, however, were called doubtful Friday.

The News-Free Press, in an article by baseball writer Alan Morris, said the offer may be too late.

League directors have given Lookout President Joe Engel until the annual minor league meetings, starting Sunday at St. Petersburg, Fla., to say whether the club can be operated next year.

Griffith—in a letter to Engel—reiterated his stand that Washington will not operate the class AA Lookouts next year.

The Lookouts, the ball park and the franchise were put up for sale by Griffith at the end of the past season. Dwindling attendance was blamed for the the fourth and sixth best ground-gainers in the league.

If Alabama's Pat Trammell has recovered satisfactorily from an injury received last week against Memphis State, an exciting rookie quarterback duel could develop between him and Hunt. Trammell has lugged the leather 145 times, more than any other SEC back.

After a frustrating season of near misses, Auburn's Richard wood found the passing aim against Mississippi Southern last week that prevented an Alabama upset here last year, 14-8. Wood and Tider Bobby Skelton provide Saturday's prime aerial threats.

Alabama and Auburn have reliable place-kickers who could settle the match via field goal or extra point.

Alabama's Fred Sington Jr. has connected on five of nine field goal attempts and five of seven conversions. Two of Sington's three-pointers were the difference against Houston and Georgia Tech.

Auburn's Dyas has cashed 14 of 17 conversion placements and four of six field goal attempts.

Ironically, Sington is the only contestant who was in the game the last time Alabama defeated Auburn. As a freshman in 1953, he played left tackle and missed one field goal in the 10-7 triumph that sent Alabama to the Cotton Bowl.

After a stretch in the service, Sington returned to the Capstone as a kicking specialist.

Auburn is seeking an unprecedented sixth straight victory in a 66-year-old series that is led by the Tigers, 13-9-1. Auburn holds a 6-5 advantage since the competition was resumed in 1948 after a 40-year lapse.

Auburn fought off an explosive fourth-period rally last year to outlast Alabama in the inaugural meeting between Jordan and Bryant.

Although Bama again is the underdog, the Tide has built its surprising 6-1-2 record by ignoring the oddsmakers.

Bryant's team has received feelers from the Blue Grass Bowl at Louisville, Ky., the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and Houston's Bluebonnet Bowl is reported interested in the Crimsons.

The Tide has rolled unbeaten with only two ties since losing its opener to Georgia. Auburn stands 7-2, having lost only to Tennessee by three points and the SEC champion Bulldogs by one.

The Tigers are under NCAA probation and are ineligible for bowls. However, 10 seniors are anxious to become the "winningest" in Auburn history. They carry a 26-2-1 varsity record into the showdown.

Jordon pronounced Auburn physically fit, but made two lineup changes. Seniors Teddy Foret and Haywood Warrick earned starting tackle and guard jobs for the finale.

Trammell and guard Wayne Sims are on Bryant's doubtful list.

Ruark, Bennett and Vason Roll Over Rockdale, 27-0

Morgan Moves Into Semis

By PAUL ATKINSON
Constitution Sports Writer

COVINGTON—Bill Corry's Morgan County Bulldogs dynamited Rockdale County's 4-B high school championship hopes here Friday night, setting off halfbacks Charles Ruark and Ray Bennett and fullback Neal Vason on long runs for a 27-0 victory.

Morgan County, winning its 23rd in a row, needed only two plays to score late in the first quarter. Vason smacked for eight, then fled for 64 yards and the touchdown with 4:46 left in the period.

Bennett, a 137-pound flash, used only one play to make it 13-0 in the second quarter. After Morgan County had withstood Rockdale County's only threat at its 18 yard line, Bennett broke loose off left tackle for 82 yards and a touchdown. Quarterback Bobby Tamplin scored the first of his two extra points off right guard.

With a crowd of 3,500 looking on at Sharp field in what at times amounted to a torrential rain,

Corry called on Ruark to sew up the game with two second half touchdowns.

Ruark, a 150-pound halfback who didn't touch the ball the first half, scored the first two times he was called on in the second half. The first was an 11-yard run off left end, climaxing a 31-yard drive in seven snaps, which found Vason doing considerable work with carries of three, five, five and two yards.

Early in the fourth quarter, Ruark again went for a touchdown, this one on a 47-yard getaway off left tackle. Tamplin found Ruark in the right flat for the extra point.

The victory gave Morgan County the 4-B championship and set up a North Georgia playoff with Villa Rica, probably at Bremen next Friday.

Vason, Bennett and Ruark led a punishing ground attack, rushing for 142, 81, and 76 yards. Rockdale County managed only 82 yards rushing, 35 by quarterback Ronnie Miller.

On defense, Morgan County ends Branham Garth and Marvin Hunnicutt turned in fine play, both intercepting passes late in the game. Tackle John Gilbert set up one touchdown with a fumble recovery at the Rockdale 31 while guard Jerry Hilsman turned in his usual fine game. Billy Toney was particularly outstanding for Robert Reed's losers. Besides defending well, he punted six times for an average of 34.3.

Morgan County's Bonar Newton kicked six times for a 31.0 average, including one 45-yarder that rolled dead at the Rockdale one.

Thomasville Kayoes Crisp For Crown

CORDELE (AP)—Thomasville won the Region 1-AA playoff Friday night with a steady defense and a big second period that produced a 21-0 high school football victory over Crisp County.

The first Bulldog touchdown came on a 41-yard pass from quarterback Joe Harvard to end Pete Craig. Later in the second period, Thomasville drove to the Crisp one, but lost the ball on a fumble.

Early in the third quarter Thomasville end Larry Johnson intercepted a pass on his 41. The Bulldogs took only 11 plays to go 59 yards and Norman plunged over from the one.

Crisp drove 56 yards late in the quarter to the Thomasville six, but were shoved back 14 yards on three plays before losing the ball on downs.

THE BIG DEER PROBLEM

WHO'LL GET THIS PRIZE? SCOUTS WANT 18-POINTER

Special to The Constitution

BLAIRSVILLE—Bonnell Akins, Georgia Rangers, the Game and Fish Commission and a troop of Boy Scouts are all fighting over a buck.

This, however, is an unusual buck, an 18-point deer spotted by Boy Scout Troop No. 26 of Roanoke, Ala., here Friday.

Here's how it all started:

The Boy Scouts came across two deer locked in combat in Vogel State Park near here. One, a 10-point deer, was dead, while the 18-pointer struggled to get loose.

Scouts tried to free him but he continued to fight and they were forced to kill him with a knife.

According to Akins, operator of the park, the 18-point deer is the largest ever seen in north Georgia. He also weighed 180 pounds. The smaller one weighed 155 pounds. Weights were sans heads, which were cut off and locked up at the checking station.

Here's the rub. Akins wants the head for a museum piece. So do the Rangers. So does the Game and Fish Commission. So do the Boy Scouts.

"It actually may be a 20-pointer," said Akins. "They are still tangled up and we haven't been able to check for sure, but we know it is at least 18 points."

Akins said he went out deer hunting Wednesday and "didn't see a thing . . . then these Boy Scouts find these two big ones."

He insisted the trophies "should stay in Vogel State Park."

The Game and Fish Commission will make the final decision, but if Akins has his way, the record bag will stay in the area.

Dallas, Houston Owners Refuse New NFL Bids

HOUSTON (AP)—K. S. (Bud) Adams, owner of the Houston franchise in the new American Football League, said Friday night he and league president Lamar Hunt of Dallas have turned down a new offer to join the rival National Football League.

"We're going full steam ahead and will battle them right down to the end," Adams said. "We're not looking at any more NFL propositions."

Adams said he and Hunt conferred here Thursday night and early Friday with an NFL club owner who flew in by plane. They also talked with two others by telephone, he said.

Adams declined to identify the rival loop owners with whom they met. He said he and Hunt were offered Houston and Dallas franchises in the NFL "with no strings attached" and at assessments considerably lower than the going rate.

The offer, he said, would not include the other cities of the AFL—New York, Boston, Buffalo, Minneapolis, Los Angeles and Denver.

"Lamar and I talked all day and came to the conclusion that the NFL is still trying to sabotage the AFL," Adams said. "We're not looking at any more NFL propositions."

Bill Pace, who hit a 768 game recently on a St. Louis TV show, and the Brunts, father George and son Ralph, who incidentally are on Live TV Bowling (4 p.m., Ch. 11), are well liked in pre-tournament speculation.

The tournament, teamwise, goes in shifts of 5:30 and 8 p.m. Saturday, continues Sunday in doubles and singles with five shifts that day.— ATKINSON

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Author of the book "Astrology and You"

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You would be wise to really make plans for a big measure of self-control to be used by you to keep out of hot water this Saturday, and turn all the energy into worthwhile and constructive channels. Turn potential troubles into active opportunities.

Aries (March 21 to April 19). Today you are tempted to use force, if necessary, to achieve your end. Take the more intelligent attitude. Taurus (April 20 to May 20). While you want very much to ally yourself with certain individuals in outside interests that you feel would be worth while, a family tie does not agree. Do not argue, but await a better day. Gemini (May 21 to June 21). Wisely forego any social or pleasure sprees over this weekend. Work relaxed. P. m. raise the lagging spirits of a good friend.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21). Get in touch with that good authority who can help you solve some pressing problem. Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21). This could be a very trying day for you if you do not realize there is much of a fundamental nature that needs attention at home. Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22). Relax early and get back on even keel or you might lose your purse, wallet, cause small damages, etc.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22). Don't go out to a very expensive place and spend foolishly. P.m. avoid friend who also has eye on your wallet. Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21). Be patient, state your facts calmly and quietly. P. m. obey regulations. Be courteous. Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21). Problems and seeming worries should be a challenge to your intelligence and a means for spiritual growth. Help those in need.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20). Full speed ahead cleverly. Avoid a rift between wise adviser and a friend who does not understand. Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19). Use finesse with higher-ups. P.m. be firm and do not allow that fine but temperamental associate to ruin your plans. Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20). Get an entirely new and better concept of things closest to your heart. First complete what has been left undone of old routine.

Judge Rejects Plea To Delay Offering of Integration Plan

board to submit the plan to the Georgia Legislature for approval.

The injunction was appealed to the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, La., but no date has been set for the hearing.

Hooper said the effect of granting a supersedeas ". . . would be to defer the filing by defendants of a plan . . . until the judgment of the court in this case has been reviewed on appeal by the Circuit Court of Appeals."

He said that to wait until that court had ruled would mean "there could not be submitted to the approaching session of the Georgia Legislature any plan for its consideration."

Savage said he was concerned that the appeals court might have said Atlanta school officials could not comply with an order to submit a plan without protest—and at the same time appeal from the effect of the order. This was given as another reason for the request for a stay.

REVIEW NECESSARY

Hooper said the appeals court would have to review the case and could not call it "moot" because the city attorneys had not tried to delay the submission of the plan.

A desegregation plan has been devised by the board, but not formally adopted as yet. The plan is based on the Alabama pupil desegregation in the 12th grade next fall.

Here is the text of Judge Hoopers' order:

"The foregoing application for supersedeas by the defendants in the above-stated case having been presented to the court this day is hereby denied.

EFFECT OF ACTION

"The effect of granting this supresedeas would be to defer the filing by defendants of a plan of operation by the Atlanta school system until the judgement of the court in this case has been reviewed on appeal by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

"That would mean that there could not be submitted to the approaching session of the Georgia Legislature any plan for its consideration.

"The court is of the opinion that the public interest would be better served by the submission to such Legislature of a plan at its approaching session in January, 1960, than to be deferred to a future session of the Legislature."

Florida School Setback May Not Injure Atlanta

A federal appeals court's recent rejection of a Florida pupil placement law does not necessarily affect one under study for the Atlanta school system, city leaders said Friday.

Atlanta's pupil placement plan uses as a model an Alabama law which federal courts have ruled to be constitutional on its face.

Atlanta's plan was drawn up after Federal District Judge Frank A. Hooper ordered the city Board of Education to submit to him a school desegregation program by Dec. 1. The city is appealing Judge Hooper's ruling but the pupil placement plan is not a part of the appeal.

It was reported Friday that members of the Atlanta Board of Education have agreed to submit the pupil placement program directly to the Georgia Legislature without sending it through Fulton and DeKalb representatives. This decision was reported reached at a closed-door meeting of the board with the Fulton and DeKalb legislators.

The Atlanta plan would violate state laws even if it met federal court approval.

462 Injured During Red Riot in Tokyo

gakuren, a radical student organization.

They called the demonstration to protest the U. S.-Japan mutual defense treaty, which is being revised through negotiation, and payment of $55 million war reparations to South Viet Nam.

As the demonstrators were breaking through the main gate, the legislators were resting in the Parliament building from an all-night session at which the reparations pact was ratified.

Police said about 200,000 persons took part in similar "unified action" demonstrations at 190 other places throughout Japan.

Police gave their casualties in Tokyo as 250 injured. The demonstrators said 212 of their number were hurt.

Shojiroo Kawashima, secretary general of the ruling Liberal-Democratic party, issued a statement saying "this massive violence was evidently a planned, revolutionary subversive act of a joint conspiracy."

Socialist party Secretary-General Inejiroo Asanuma, on the other hand, said "it was an expression of fury of the people at the attempt to pay reparations to South Viet Nam and revise the U. S.-Japan security pact."

Legislators To Discuss School Crisis

Fulton County legislators will discuss their positions and plans for the January legislative session on the pending public school crisis at a meeting sponsored by HOPE, Inc. at 8 p.m., Dec. 10 at the Lenox Square auditorium.

"This will be an excellent opportunity for the public to meet with members of the Fulton County delegation and learn what they intend to do about keeping Atlanta's public school open," said Mrs. Thomas J. Breeden, chairman of the executive committee of HOPE, Inc.

The legislators — Sen. Charlie Brown, Reps. Wilson Brooks, Ralph McClelland and M. M. (Muggsy) Smith—will take part in a panel discussion and then answer questions from the audience, Mrs. Breeden said.

Another spokesman for HOPE said the panel was set after newspaper editorials criticized the recent closed meeting of the Atlanta school board and the legislators where neither side would disclose what was discussed.

RHYME A DAY

By OLLIE REEVES

"The possessive attitude of grandparents is perfectly natural and does not indicate a disposition to run the affairs of the new family."—Advice column quote.

Grandparents are a selfish lot . . . They have a one-fourth interest in . . . A child that someone else begot . . . To whom they are remotely kin . . . But when it comes they "stake a claim" . . . And they're as angry as can be . . . If its real owners do not name . . . "One of the children after me."

They do not have much common sense . . . Where their grandchildren are concerned . . . And we can't offer much defense . . . For older folks who haven't learned . . . To keep out of the family fights . . . When children have done something wrong . . . Also, they don't have "squatter's rights" . . . On every child who comes along.

No doubt The Good Lord will forgive . . . Grandparents for their selfish ways . . . Because they never really live . . . Without the second crop to raise . . . So long as there's a spark of life . . . In them, you must be reconciled . . . To this great truth, you and your wife . . . Will have no chance to raise your child . . . Which, after all, is not too bad . . . So do not be so woebegone . . . You should be thankful you have had . . . Some more for them to practice on.*

sively. "I got 20 of 'em right here."

And for the benefit of disbelievers he fanned out a fistful of about 15 tickets, some of them for seats in Grant Field's choice West stands.

A good-looking blonde in a form-fitting black dress approached the scalper with, "How much?"

"Just $25, ma'am, just $25," was the quick reply.

The abashed blonde shook her head and declared in a voice that carried for half the block: "I hope it rains all day tomorrow—I hope it snows."

"We'll see you outside the gate tomorrow in the rain," the blonde's tuxedo-clad escort told the scalper.

"I'll be there daddy, I'll be there," the undaunted scalper called after them.

If the bone-chilling rain slowed down movement of the scalper's merchandise, it called a nearly dead halt to the downtown sales of football pennants and Tech-Georgia keepsakes.

"Buy one and I'll give you one," cried one pennant hawker as he flashed Tech flags and a batch of new Georgia standards emblazoned with "Southeastern Conference Champions 1959."

At a Forsyth street liquor store, the smiling owner looked out and predicted: "They'll pint and half-pint us to death tomorrow."

Chinese Reds Kidnap U.S. Clerk in Bombay

strong found Chang walking away from the shack. He caught up with him and hired a cab to return to town. As the cab approached the Chinese Consulate on the way to town Chang tried to run into the consulate with the tape recording. Armstrong ran after him to get the tape.

Five or six consulate officials heard Chang's shouts, came out, and seized and pulled Armstrong inside.

A postman saw the incident and informed U.S. consular officials. Turner contacted the police.

Turner said in a statement that Sgt. Armstrong was detained with his hands tied behind his back from about 7:40 a.m. until 1:45 p.m. He said the postman came to the consulate about 9 a.m. and informed one of the Indian clerks of what he had seen. Turner said the consulate received other reports of the scuffle and that the man seized looked like an American. He said he got in touch with the police at 10 or 10:30 a.m.

He said that while Armstrong was detained "he was abused and they took pictures of him." "When he was finally released," the consul added, "he was taken to the C.I.D. (Indian Criminal Investigation Department) and from there to a hospital. He had rope burns on the hands and around the neck."

Turner released photographic copies of Chang's two statements as well as a copy of the visiting card he presented on his arrival at the consulate Thursday. The card said, "Chang Chien-Yuh, China National, Import and Export Corp., Address Erh-Li-Koun-Outside His - Chih - Men - Peking, Cable Address Sniec-Peking."

One of the signed statements, which was said to be in Chang's handwriting, read: "I am a Communist Party member but I could not afford (sic) the control of the human freedom under the Communist system that has led me to the American consulate general for political asylum.

"In the meantime the Red Chinese regime instructs its foreign diplomats to work as intelligent (sic) agents. I am one of them instructed. To all this I express my strong condemnation."

Record-Breaker Pilot Goes Home On an Airliner

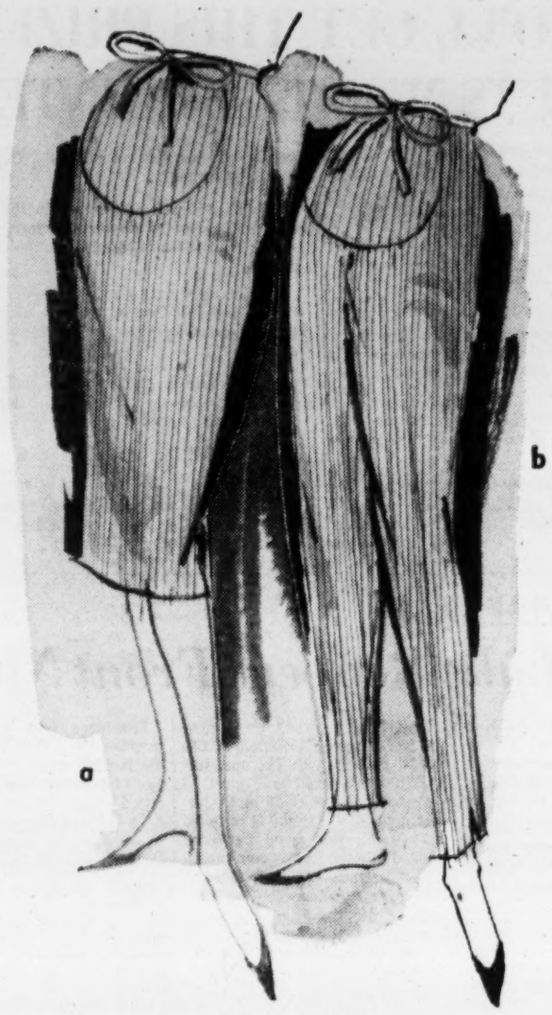

LAS VEGAS, Nev., (AP) — Grandpa Max Conrad, still weary after a 56-hour record flight from North Africa to Texas, decided Friday to finish his trip home to San Francisco by airliner.

Conrad, 56, landed Thursday at El Paso after a 6,911-mile flight from Casablanca. He took off a few minutes later for San Francisco but, too tired to finish the trip, brought his plane down here Thursday night.

Conrad flew 7,668 miles from North Africa to Los Angeles in the same plane last year. His latest venture is considered a new record, however, because he used a four-cylinder engine instead of a six.

CHALLENGE SCHOOLS—Members of the Coed Archery Club at Sylvan Hills High have issued a challenge to other schools for a shoot-out with bows and arrows, in the hopes of furthering interest in the sport. Students interested in accepting the challenge should contact Kenneth Quattlebaum or Mrs. Pat McElroy at Sylvan. Above, Brenda Frost and Frank Murphy check their latest score with Clara Davis.

BOW TIME—Enterprising students at Sylvan Hills High School are aiming for straight shooters with their newly formed coed archery club, first unit of its kind organized locally. Martha McCreery and Kenneth Quattlebaum get ready for a shoot-out on the range. To date, the girls outrank the boys, scorewise. Kenneth and faculty sponsor Mrs. Pat McElroy organized the 37-member club, which meets after school each Wednesday.

John Kirkley Elected to JRC Office

JRC LEADER
John Kirkley, Atlanta

John Kirkley of Atlanta has been elected 1960 vice chairman of the Southeastern Area Advisory Council of American Junior Red Cross Members. David Ziegler of Birmingham was elected head of the group, and Annette Jordan of Mobile, will serve as secretary.

Elections were held during the fall meeting of the 10-member council, representing eight states, this week at Southeastern Area Red Cross headquarters in Atlanta. Members, who are advisers on local school and community Junior Red Cross programs, met with Dr. Robert G. Gordon of Washington, D.C., Red Cross national director of educational relations, and Clyde Howard of Atlanta, Southeastern Area Junior Red Cross director.

The council also named John, David and Linda Ann Harrell of Knoxville, as representatives on the National Advisory Council of Junior Red Cross Members. The trio will attend a conference of the national council in Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 27-30, to help plan JRC participation in the Red Cross 1960 national convention in May.

President of the JRC council of the Greater Atlanta Red Cross Chapter, John is a senior at Westminster School, where, in addition to his JRC responsibilities, he is active in the Key Club and sports, and is editor of the school newspaper.

RACKETTE SQUAD APPEAL—Darrill Hyde, leader of The Rackette Squad, teen-age rock 'n' roll combo, presents a check representing the proceeds from a dance in behalf of United Appeal to UA worker Hamilton Stockton (right) while drummer John (Tweety) Somerfield rolls his approval. The Rackette Squad was formed more than a year ago by a group of North Fulton High graduates. The group has become well-known throughout the state, and particularly in the Atlanta area, and is much in demand for college and high school dances.

Teens Join March on Dystrophy

Teen-agers in the Greater Atlanta area are out front as they join the ranks of volunteers in the march to defeat muscular dystrophy.

Young men and women will climax their activities in behalf of the current fund drive this week, as they join adult volunteers to canvass neighborhoods collecting for the campaign.

Participating groups will be led by Key Clubs of various high schools, which have adopted the MD drive as one of their service projects for the year. The youths will work closely with adult volunteers, especially local firemen, under whose supervision the key clubbers will stage their part of the attack against MD.

The boys began their house-to house canvass Friday night. They are also helping to distribute coin containers to various business concerns.

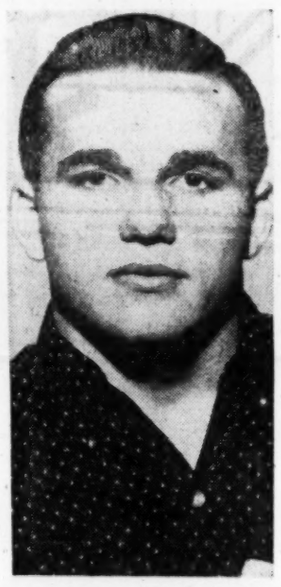

Leading the service clubs in the first division is Lt. Gov. Victor Hicks, and Steve MacCreary, lieutenant governor, 14th division.

School campaign leaders for the Key Clubs include Bill Amis, Murphy; Eddie Reed, Brown; Francis Saunders, Sandy Springs; Gene Lewis, Southwest; Jim Seaton, North Fulton; Ronald Plunkett, Roosevelt; Joe Martin, Northside; David Dye, Henry Grady; Henry Miller, College Park; Larry Gerlock, Campbell of Fairburn; Weyman Davis, Russell; Gladstone Prater, Sylvan.

Other Key Club chapters participating include those at Headland High School, Decatur, Gordon, Avondale, Tucker, Lithonia and Southwest DeKalb.

Other teen-age groups taking part in the current campaign include B'nai B'Rith and Catholic youth organizations, Atlanta Teen Council, Kirkwood Rainbow Assembly and the Temple Youth Group.

Before making final plans for their participation in the drive, the enthusiastic young people learned as much as possible about MD in this area, so that they may answer any questions put to them during the campaign.

JUNIOR JUDGE PREFERS ROBE — To wear a robe or not to wear a robe. That has been a question of considerable discussion among senior judges here. Junior "Judge" Barry Kilgore, 16, who helps keep order among some 1,300 of his fellow teenagers at the Lakewood Boys' Club, thinks the new robe presented him by Morris Hirsch (left) will make the club's teen-age court look dignified. Judge Barry's court decides what to do about wrongdoing and abuses around the club.

East Point Women Are Giving Nature Some Help in Easing Gripping Girdle

By JACK STRONG

A group of East Point women intent on easing the gripping girdle are giving nature a helping hand.

The East Point recreation department began the classes about seven years ago for the ladies who wanted to exercise, tone their muscles and trim their figures.

During a typical morning session this week, Conductor-arranger . . er . . rearranger Dick Lane lifted his hand, gave the downbeat and his ensemble of about 20 classmembers began the first movement of his natural remedy symphony. Occasionally there was the sideline dissonance of the youngsters who had accompanied mammas to their Monday-Wednesday - Friday, hour-long session. One mother had her five-month-old son in his stroller beside her where she could give him an attentive pat between sit-up and leg - raising sequences.

Results? Mrs. Carl Franklin's were probably the most dramatic. Since this class began in September she said she has lost 12 to 15 pounds without dieting.

"I weigh 133 now," she said. "I've lost three and one-half inches in my waist, two and one-half in the hips . . . about an inch in all measurements.

Mrs. Franklin, who has three children, says she doesn't have any patience with women who tell her they can't neglect their work for the one-hour class. "The work is always there," she philosophized, "and I get it done because I work harder . . . feel better."

"My husband always tells me he likes me the way I am but he is right proud of my work with my figure," Mrs. Franklin said.

Dick Lane, recently named Superintendent of Parks and Recreation, says that some of the husbands favor their wive's form-trimming efforts and some don't. He doubted that this factor made much difference in the size of his classes, however.

"We've operated the program seven years," Lane said. "Some of these ladies have been here the entire time. I have two pastor's wives in the classes. At times, our morning and evening classes have numbered as many as 87," he said.

Lane, who calls exercise the best preventive medicine he knows, said that most of the women do not diet. He said that muscle toning moved the weight around to the right places. He said that there were morning and night classes held during the year except for the hot, summer months.

TOBE SAYS

A Delightful Sweater Look In After-Five Dresses

Every debutante wants to make an electric appearance at home or at a party, especially when the hostess says "Let's dress, dear, but not really formal." In my opinion, a first choice is a dress that combines a sweater-look top with a fancy fabric kirt—separate or all together.

I like these sweater dresses best in black and white. For instance, a black mat jersey sweater bodice, with leotard lines, high neck, and long sleeves, is worn with a short full gathered white satin skirt. Or a black velvet pullover, likewise with high neck and long sleeves, teamed with a gay brocade skirt.

If you prefer a more vivid color, I suggest a ruby red velvet bodice, skirted in one of the exciting red silk warp taffeta prints.

They arrived just in time to welcome the sons of the family, Carling III and Derek, home from St. Stanislaus Academy, Bay St. Louis, Miss., for the holidays. Carling is editor-in-chief of the campus paper at the academy.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES A. NONEMAKER have bought the William W. Farinholt home at 525 Echota Dr., NW, and will take possession on Dec. 7. Mr. Nonemaker is curator of the McBurney Art Memorial.

CHARLES STEVENS will be host at cocktails today at his home at 88 Ellis St. Out-of-town guests here for the party include Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bitter of New York, Miss Jane Wallace of New Orleans, Mrs. Harrison Snider and Harrison Snider Jr. of Palm Beach.

Collins on Riverview road, will be honor guests when Mrs. Collins entertains a group of their friends at the cocktail hour today. Mr. and Mrs. Conte and their small son, John Charles, arrived Thursday from New York. Mr. Conte is a well known television personality.

MRS. FREDERICK L. CONOVER of Nashville, Tenn., is the guest of Mrs. John Ewing Taylor at her apartment on Peachtree road, having come especially to stand as godmother at the baptism of Richard Taylor McDonald, small son of the Richard McDonalds, on Friday afternoon at the Cathedral of Christ the King. William F. Ware of Savannah was the baby's godfather.

SANDRA VANSANT of Florida State University is here for the holidays and has as her guest her classmate, Polly Paulin of Hamilton, Ohio. Both Sandra and Polly are Delta Gammas at Florida State.

MRS. JAMES S. HARMON and her children, Cathy and Scott, have arrived from Merritt Island, Fla., and are guests of Mrs. Harmon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger D. Jacobs, at their new home on Rembrandt road.

MR. AND MRS. H. C. JOHNSON are spending the holidays at William Hilton Inn on Hilton Head Island.

MRS. LES HENRIKSON has returned from Macon where she attended the annual meeting of Georgia Civil Defense Association at which she represented the City of Hapeville. Mrs. Henrikson was appointed to serve on the nominating committee and received a certificate of merit presented by Mrs. Sarah W. Betts, president of the association.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES CRAFT of Corpus Christi, Tex., and their daughter, Mrs. Austin P. Kelley of New York, are visiting Miss Elizabeth Simpson in Hapeville.

'MD' Retires As Telegraph Operator

After 42 years as a telegraph operator, "MD" is retiring.

"MD" is the operating sign for Mrs. Mattie Lou Denny Almand, who was honored by her fellow workers Friday with a tea and gifts.

The tea was given by Mrs. J. B. Lamar and Mrs. W. L. Peek at the Western Union office as Mrs. Almand sent out her last message.

She is the wife of the late Mr. Newton W. Almand, in the produce business and upon retirement a bird dealer. Her home is at 537 Moreland Ave., SE.

"Our work requires quick thinking," said Mrs. Almand. "Our customers expect us to be as familiar with their operations as our own. But it has been most interesting."

League Sets Meeting With Legislators Here

The League of Women Voters of Atlanta will meet Wednesday, Dec. 12, with Fulton and DeKalb County legislators for a question and answer session.

In a recent meeting with the legislators, the league presented several proposals for forthcoming legislation in the next meet- of the General Assembly. The proposals included the following:

1. Repeal of laws making mandatory the closing of Atlanta schools if the federal court decree is enforced. In particular, the league asks amendment of Statute 212 so it would be possible for the Atlanta Board of Education to levy local taxes for the support of Atlanta schools.

2. Expansion of the Metropolitan Planning Commission for orderly development.

3. Position of coroner being abolished and his duties assigned to a trained and qualified medical examiner.

("Last year the commission raised the budget of the coroner's office by $39,000 over the amount spent the year before. This year they are asking to raise it by another $36,000. Unless this position of coroner is abolished before these new employes are added," said Mrs. Ray Mitchell, "we will have two officers, a medical examiner and a coroner, with the inevitable consequences of duplication of expenses and conflict of authority.")

4. Elimination of the elective position of county treasurer and the assignment of the duties of this office to the comptroller.

5. Take the registrar out of the tax commissioner's office and make registration a separate department.

6. Submitting again the bill, vetoed last year, making it possible to have neighborhood registration for Fulton County.

Society Group Plans Meeting

Mrs. Arthur Styron, state president of Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, will be guest speaker Tuesday, Dec. 8, at the meeting of the Venetian Hills PTA. Mrs. Styron will read a Christmas story. A solo by Miss Geraldine Chapman, accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Werner, will also be on the program.

Steady Sales Sag Grain

CHICAGO (AP) — Light steady selling weakened grain futures prices and the market closed with only one small plus sign in the entire list. Most of the losses, though, were small. The selling, as often happens, appeared to reflect an absence of any significant bullish factors to develop over the Thanksgiving holiday rather than any particularly bearish influences.

Rally Gives Stocks Best Gain of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Tobaccos took sharp losses on the government's latest cancer warning, but the over-all stock market made a late rally which resulted in the week's best gain.

Aircrafts and space age stocks advanced as Wall Street looked for bigger expenditures on defense and rocketry.

The backward rails and oils rallied nicely, perhaps inspired by comment that issues which have suffered considerable tax loss selling might be good speculative risks for 1960. News that rail carloadings topped the year-ago week also helped.

The Big Three motors also had a good day. Electrical equipments, some of the steels and a variety of selected issues helped push up the average to a moderate gain.

Tobaccos were hit hard from the start on the U.S. Public Health Service warning on tobacco, the government's strongest statement to date linking smoking and cancer. American Tobacco fell 4¾ and Reynolds Tobacco three.

Curtiss-Wright, whose gyrations Wednesday brought on an investigation by the Securities and Exchange Commission, was once again a focus of attention. This time it wiped out Wednesday's fractional loss and posted a net gain of 1⅝. Investors apparently weighed a drastically cut dividend against the firm's new internal combustion engine and found the latter more impressive.

L&N To Spend $33 Million for 3,000 Rail Cars

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP) — The Louisville & Nashville Railroad said Friday it will spend a record 33 million dollars for 3,000 roller-bearing freight cars.

President William H. Kendall said the order is the largest ever placed for roller bearing equipped freight cars by a U.S. railroad.

It includes 1,700 open top hoppers weighing 70 tons each, 900 gondolas, also 70 tons each; 108 covered hoppers, and other cars to be used in filling orders for specialized units.

Kendall said the roller bearings would add $2,400,000 to the cost but the "sealed" bearings represent the best solution to the hot-box problem which arises when lubrication in a bearing goes dry. The bearing may melt through friction.

Prices Dip At N.C., Va. Leaf Belt

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Average prices for flue-cured tobacco continued a downward trend this week on the North Carolina-Virginia Old Belt.

The Federal-State Market News Service reported Friday that the Belt sold 5,955,650 pounds during the three days of this week for a season low average of $49.30 per hundred pounds. The markets were closed Thursday and Friday for the Thanksgiving holidays.

The quality of tobacco offered this week was slightly better and volume light. Declines in grade averages ranged from $1 to $7. Most were $1 to $3. Around 50 per cent of the grades were lower. A few increases of 50 cents to $5 were recorded, but they were scattered throughout all groups.

So far this season the Belt has sold 242,062,387 pounds for an average of $53.53. Deliveries to the Flue-Cured Stabilization Corp. under the government loan plan program this week were around 20 per cent off the gross sales.

The Clarksville and Petersburg, Va., markets closed Tuesday. South Hill, Va., and Burlington wound up their sales Wednesday. The Danville, Va., market announced it will close Dec. 11.
